Activity

Five Rocks

What You Need:

Towel and five cotton balls (or crumbled paper)

What You Do:

Lay the towel flat on the floor. Scatter the cotton balls in the room.

Say, "Today, we learned about when David battled Goliath! What did David collect to use in his sling? (Pause.) Rocks! David collected five rocks.

"Look around the room. Do you see all the cotton balls? Let's pretend those cotton balls are rocks. When I say, 'Go,' I want you to run and pick up five rocks and put them on the towel. Ready? Go! (Pause while your child gathers five "rocks.") Great job! Pick up the towel and shake. (Pick up one end of the towel while your child picks up the other end.) Let's launch these rocks! (Pause.) Wow! Let's collect five more rocks and do it again! (Repeat as desired.) Launching the rocks was so much fun!"

When you are finished say, "David knew that God was always with him, and that helped him be brave. David didn't need armor, just five smooth rocks and his sling. One rock was all it took to knock Goliath down. God helped David be brave, and God can help us be brave too. Who can help you be brave? God can help me be brave!"
