Ephesians 1:19
Summary Review

“and what is the surpassing greatness of His power toward us who believe. These are in accordance with the working of the strength of His might” (NASB)

“and what is the exceeding greatness of His power toward us who believe, according to the working of His mighty power” (NKJV)

“καὶ	τί	τὸ	ὑπερβάλλον	μέγεθος	τῆς	δυνάμεως	αὐτοῦ
“and	what [is]	the	exceeding	greatness	of the	capability	of Him

εἰς	ἡμᾶς	τοὺς	πιστεύοντας	κατὰ	τὴν	ἐνέργειαν	του	κράτους
into	us	the	believing	according to	the	working	of the	strength

τῆς	ἰσχύος	αὐτοῦ” (NA21)
of the	might	of Him” (KMT)

Expanded Translation:

“and, logically related, what, being a tool or instrument used to accomplish something, [is] the - performing the continuous type of action as a matter of principle to go beyond that which is necessary or expected, being a tool or instrument used to accomplish something,- quality of being outstanding in comparison with what is typical, based on response, of the natural inherent power capable of being used to accomplish something, based on response, of Him, an Initiator, into the limitations and boundaries of us, the initiators performing the continuous type of action as a matter of principle to place our dependency upon someone or something to accomplish something specific on our behalf, based on our own initiation, according to the limitations and boundaries of the operational activity inherent to the accomplishment of a process, based on response, of the power and authority necessary to wield authority, being a tool or instrument used to accomplish something, of the personal ability to function effectively physically or mentally, based on response, of Him, an Initiator,”

Principles:

1. God’s inherent ability to accomplish what He undertakes is unlike any other individual’s capabilities.
2. The greatness of God’s natural inherent power is far beyond that which He needs to accomplish His endeavors.
3. Certainly, God’s natural inherent ability is unlike any other individual’s, whether angel or human.
4. When it comes to those who believer, God’s natural inherent ability is easily equipped to redeem, regenerate, and resurrect the believer.
5. As the believer walks with God, he comes to an experiential knowledge of the greatness of God’s power.
6. This experiential knowledge is the result of personally observing the greatness of God’s power to fulfill all of His promises to the believer through Jesus Christ.

Ephesians 1:19
Summary Review

7. Not only does God an exceedingly great ability to accomplish what He has promised to believers, but His natural inherent ability works in accordance with the authority and power He has in His position and at His disposal.
8. Thus, God has inherent ability to do what He desires and the authority necessary to wield His ability.
9. God is both omnipotent (all-powerful) and sovereign (the One who reigns above all others).
10. Consequently, He can do all that He wants for He is not lacking in ability or authority.
11. This includes redeeming man, regenerating man, and resurrecting man while maintaining righteousness and receiving justice for violation of righteousness.
12. When it comes to the believer, God has put on display the exceeding greatness of His natural inherent power through Jesus Christ so that He is able to work in man to make them His eternal heirs.

Conclusion:

Paul identifies the third component he wants the Ephesian believers to come to experientially understand: the exceeding greatness of God's ability to accomplish all that He has for those who believe. This understanding can only come through personal relationship with God through fellowship.
