PRINCIPLES

- 1 The books of the law are made up of three main categories: moral, civil, ceremonial.
- 2 They are meant to instruct and lay out the conditions of God's covenant - a national constitution - with Israel.
- 3 They inform us of God's concern for justice, caring for the poor and outsiders and a healthy, functioning community.
- 4 They demonstrate God's desire for good relationships and his provision for reconciliation with him and one another when the law is broken.

QUESTIONS

- 1 What does this teach me about God's nature and his purposes?
- 2 Is this consistent with what he instructs me as his child?
- 3 How might this principle apply to me?
