1. Looking back at your notes from this week's teaching, was there anything that particularly caught your attention, challenged, or confused you?
2. Oftentimes the forgiveness of our sins becomes a thing of the past in our walk, secondary to other "spiritual" things. What do you often substitute in place of dwelling on the forgiveness of your sins? How can you revive the truth of this blessed forgiveness in your life this week?
3. Where do you see the Lord working right now in your current struggle? (If you can't see it, ask for prayer to find it.) How can you praise Him in the midst of it?
4. Are you taking the time to remind your soul daily not to forget the Lord's forgiveness, healing, redemption, love, mercy, and goodness? How can you be deliberate in your praise?
5. How has your internal praise become external in the past couple of weeks? How can you share your praise so that people SEE, HEAR, and KNOW that God is worthy to be praised?
