

Best Year Ever: Making Resolutions that Matter

Joel Goff, Interim Pastor

Discussion Questions

1. As your life group gathers for the first time in 2019 take some time to reflect together on 2018. What were some of the highlights of your year together? What were some of the challenges you faced as a group? How about as a group that is a part of Cornerstone Church? There were certainly some great successes as well as some great challenges.
2. As you enter 2019 what is on your heart for your life group and for your church? Are there issues that you as a group need to prayerfully deal with and/or speak about? Is there a group member/family that already knows of some difficult challenges for 2019? Share as a group and commit to not only praying about those but to periodically revisit them for a progress report.
3. Where would you like the group to go in 2019? Would you like to add more social events, more outreach and service events, or even some new members? (If you are doing this alone you can still answer these questions in term of your relationship with other believers)
4. Cornerstone, Lord willing, will welcome a new lead pastor to the church in 2019. How can you as a group prepare for this transition? How best can you express and demonstrate support for the lead pastor and family? Are their issues and concerns you as a group have that you already can began praying about? Can you together begin to be a part of the solution? How?
5. Close your time in prayer together for each other and for Cornerstone. Pray with expectant faith and a commitment to obedience even as God begins to answer your prayers now. Some of the changes He invites you to make may not be easy but you can support one another as they are made.
