Greek Temple – in Sicily

A large, dark wooden cross stands prominently on a grassy hill. The cross is made of two thick, rectangular beams. The background is a dramatic sky at sunset or sunrise, with horizontal bands of orange, yellow, and pink light. The grass in the foreground is dark and silhouetted against the bright sky. The word "SALVATION" is written in a large, serif font across the middle of the image, with the cross acting as the letter 'V'.
