

Missions in Focus: Olive Crest

Olive Crest is dedicated to preventing child abuse by strengthening, equipping, and restoring children and families in crisis...One Life at a Time. The heartbreaking reality is abuse is happening to children in our neighborhoods and communities. The damage this causes is evident both physically and emotionally. Too often, this leads to drug abuse, homelessness, and a legacy of abuse in generations that follow. The need is great, but we know the gospel is greater, and praying for suffering kids is not enough.

With over 400,000 children in the welfare system, the need for communities, churches and individuals to provide safe, loving homes is the solution. So many precious kids' lives are hanging in the balance.

The best way for children to heal from abusive home situations is within the care of a strong and stable family. Whether it is short-term or long-term, providing safety and consistency to help kids find their footing is the recipe for transforming lives.

We, as the church, must do something about it. We are needing individuals inside the walls of the church to be the hands and feet of Jesus outside the walls of the church to one of the most vulnerable people groups in Washington - kids. Together, we can make a difference.

Jeremiah & Jodi Durr

A story of vulnerability

"Shame needs three things to grow exponentially in our lives: secrecy, silence, and judgment."

- Brene Brown

When I was praying about what to share about our experience as one of the panel members at the recent marriage conference, one word came immediately to mind: vulnerability.

The benefit of hearing from a panel of fellow Christians is the willingness of each individual to open themselves up rather than living in secrecy and silence where Satan likes to dwell. We can all feel so alone in our sins and struggles. Looking around at church, we can both assume and compare. What the panel revealed to me is that we are all a work in progress. When we come to Christ, we are immediately saved. However, we continue to be sanctified. It's a dance between us and God where He is working to purify us, but we are also continuously putting off our old selves and choosing submission to God's ways. To hear our fellow brothers and sisters be vulnerable in their own struggles in marriage encourages others to escape the secrecy and silence and see that in Jesus there is freedom and no condemnation.
