

LC3 Mission in Focus: Marv Cole, Yakima, Washington

I am still pastoring at Tampico Community Church, west of Yakima, WA. The hills that cradle the church are full of stories of people with great needs. We pray for the wisdom and spiritual discernment to point folks to the Lord for His healing in their lives.

We currently have a challenge in need of prayer: the U.S. Immigration Department wants to deport one of our members and thus separate a 20-year marriage. Friends are busy writing letters on the couple's behalf. Another prayer request, please pray as the church's business year is about to end and we must elect new officers.

Two visitors, Gustavo and Jose (Gustavo's translator), from Paraguay spent last week with us. Gustavo is an attorney for the Maka people. Mateo, their chief, graduated from the same Baptist High School as Gustavo. Mateo sought Gustavo's help because his tribe is having legal issues over the loss of some of their land due to the construction of a new bridge. We spent a lot of time going through pictures and documents that might help them to prove their legal right to the disputed land.

March 2 & 3

A STORY OF HEALING EVIE MULHOLLAND

When I lost my husband four years ago, I was devastated and broken by my grief. Wayne was my best friend and the love of my life. When he died, a big part of me died that day, too. I didn't want to continue life without him, but I knew I had to keep living for my children's sake. My joy was gone; I was not the same person any more. It was so lonely waking up by myself every day. I heard about a GriefShare class starting at Oasis Church in Lakewood and God nudged me to check it out.

GriefShare touched on all the aspects of grief I was dealing with. It showed me God was always there to help me. Being with other people who were also experiencing tremendous loss helped me work through this incredible pain. We shared what worked for us which showed me new ways to help myself. Answering questions in the workbook made me realize God had a plan for my life, even while I was alone. The videos taught me ways to handle people and situations that made me uncomfortable.

A friend lost his wife, so I suggested he attend GriefShare. He asked me to go with him. Going through the class again was very helpful. I was in a better place in my life but I still received comfort and support in adjusting to my new life alone. It was also a chance for me to contribute to others because I was healing from my grief. Friends and family saw a change in me. My daughter told me she thought I would do well leading a GriefShare class.

When I became a member of LC3, I was asked what area I thought I could serve God here. I told Pastor Rich I wanted to start up a GriefShare class. With God's direction we held a 13-week class last Spring.

The participants said they found the program very helpful and it was a blessing to be able to share my experiences and help others through their own difficult times.
