

Missions in Focus: Jon & Christine Banke

Jon and Christine have focused on ministry with and to the Fulani people in Niger, and across West and Central Africa. They have both been involved in various ways: outreach, discipleship, and partnership with local Fulani believers. Jon and Christine are seeing the growth of Jesus' Church – both numerically and spiritually – among Fulani in many countries and in varying contexts. Many of the local population face opposition and persecution when they make the choice to follow Jesus, and His Church grows because of the faithful discipleship of many.

A recent highlight was the baptism (last week!) of a good friend. Another was a vision trip to another country with no known witness to Fulani, followed by the joy of sending three men for a 3-week trip to share the Gospel with over 150 Fulani.

Jon, Christine, and Michael Banke have just returned to the US. They feel that God is calling them, for the next year, to continue serving with SIM from Charlotte, NC.

Prayer Points:

- Pray for those who heard the Gospel – that the Holy Spirit would work in their hearts to draw them to Himself.
- Pray for our friend to grow in her faith and love for Jesus.
- Pray for the Bankes, as they transition to life in the US.

The Bankes are with us in person this week! Meet them after services at the Mission Counter, and hear more about their time in Africa at the Niger Lunch Sunday at 12:20pm.

John Benny's Story Colson Fellows

When I first considered joining the Colson Fellows, I was interested in learning more about the fundamentals of my faith. I considered myself as only having the basics of biblical knowledge and I saw Colson as a way to ground and grow my faith theology. I was not disappointed as I learned the biblical story of creation, the fall, redemption, and restoration.

Later in the program, as we were studying worldviews, I realized how deeply our background and culture shapes how we view the world around us - our worldview. We studied contemporary issues and developed our own biblical responses to them. We were equipped to respond and make a positive difference in our culture.

I highly recommend the Colson program to anyone who seeks to understand and live biblically in today's culture.
