

Missions in Focus: Sarah Davison, Frontiers

It's been a whirl-wind month: moving from Arizona to Oregon, working remotely with Frontiers and then returning to Arizona the first week of August, followed by our International Conference of all field workers and their families in Europe. This was an incredible event with 1800 attendees, of which 463 were kids, and 250 volunteers. I worked every day in the conference office, serving our workers who were presenting in break-out meetings.

From there I flew to Florida for my family reunion where my fiancé and I got married at the end of the week, last Saturday! We are now back in Oregon, where I will continue working remotely with Frontiers until John and I discern what God has next for us. We have several opportunities God has provided already within our missional community, so we would covet your prayers for wisdom and discernment.

Prayer Requests:

- Wisdom and discernment regarding several job opportunities that we are praying about.
- Smooth transition and adjustment to married life.
- Safe travels back to Arizona in 3 weeks for the Bi-annual Barnabas Team gathering and the preparation for the weeklong meeting and finalization of the database migration.

Bread of Life Food Bank

Bread of Life Food Bank is a ministry of LC3 to our local community. Our faithful volunteers meet every week to inventory new food, organize and stock the shelves, and (on Thursdays) transform the Gym Lobby into a food bank.

The Food Bank serves 125 households every week from our community. In addition to groceries, our volunteers are serving friendly smiles, welcoming hearts and listening ears. Mora L., a client, told us: "Your pure kindness and care without judgement nourishes my heart when I'm in need." It is a much needed blessing to our community. One client said that without the food bank, she'd have to decide whether to purchase her medication or get gas for her car.

But the clients aren't the only ones who feel blessed by the Food Bank. Our volunteers also appreciate the opportunity to serve, and come away feeling blessed by their time. As Doug said: "It blesses me as much as it blesses our clients." It's also an opportunity for growth and to share the love of Jesus. "It's hours of fun and I love to interact and pray with the clients," Margie told us.

Right now, the Food Bank needs school supplies to distribute to these families. You may drop them off in the Food Bank bin in the Lower Lobby.

Samaritan's Purse is responding to the catastrophic wildfires that torched the Hawaiian island of Maui. Hundreds of homes and other structures were damaged or destroyed, displacing thousands of residents.

Samaritan's Purse has staff already on the ground and volunteer teams helping families sift through the ashes of their fire-ravaged homes to recover valuables and treasured mementos. As the organization works with local church partners, they are bringing comfort to those who are hurting and sharing with them the eternal hope found only in the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
