MISSION IN FOCUS: Missionary Family "H," Central Asia

Our ministry here in Central Asia is still young and in a season of discernment. Yet we recognize that God has been at work in this city and nation long before we arrived.

We came with little understanding of what God had prepared for us. Through prayer and His clear leading, we quickly sensed that He desires to see the local church unified and empowered to fulfill the Great Commission in this place.

There are centuries-old strongholds here, rooted in Islam and spiritualism. We are praying that the "strong man" would be bound, and that God's Body would grow in strength and power as believers love one another and boldly carry the gospel to their families and friends who do not yet know Christ.

We are pressing into the Lord's guidance, seeking to love and serve the church well. In this season, we are studying, listening, and learning how to best support what God is already doing among His people here.

Pray with Us:

- That believers would discern the enemy's tactics to divide and that God would bring deep unity within His Church.
- That God would break strongholds in the minds and hearts of the people here, exposing and defeating the schemes of Satan, and lift the veil that blinds them to the truth.
- That we would keep our eyes fixed on eternal things in the midst of homesickness, spiritual warfare, and the ordinary challenges of daily life.

GRACE TO PERSEVERE

Andie Regenfuss

Homeschooling can be an isolating experience. I choose the curriculum. I teach the lessons. I troubleshoot when problems arise. And all the while I wonder—am I doing this right? Am I giving my children what they need? How do I teach Spanish when I don't know Spanish?

When my best friend, Laura Quartey, and I started the Homeschool Support Group here at LC3, I was hoping it would be a place to ask questions and share ideas. And it has certainly filled that need. The collective wisdom of these Jesus-loving moms continually amazes me. Their creativity, practical advice, and experience have strengthened me as a teacher.

"But what I didn't anticipate was how deeply God would use these women to shepherd my heart."

In the quiet discouragement that can creep into homeschooling, they have reminded me of truth. When I feel inadequate, they remind me that God does not ask for perfection—He asks for obedience. Through their prayers, encouragement, and gentle honesty, I have experienced the tangible love of Christ. This group has become more than shared curriculum tips and field trip ideas. It has been a means of grace. God has used these women to steady my heart, lift my eyes, and help me persevere in the work He has given me.

I am deeply grateful for how the Lord ministers through His people—and for the reminder that we were never meant to walk this journey alone.
