

MISSIONS IN FOCUS: Tyler & Jessica Mallett, SIM in Niger

Things are heating up here in Niamey. The hot season has arrived with scorching day and hot nights; spring break is wrapping up and the final push of the school year is about to start; and our airplane engine temperatures have been restored after we repaired a cylinder that was damaged due to overheating.

Tyler continues to schedule and fly the many missionaries and volunteers who come to Niger. Jessica and the kids are busy with homeschooling and hospitality.

We were so blessed by the team from LC3 that came to run the youth events at our spiritual life conference in January. Pastor Tung gave us some great encouragement from God's Word and the time spent getting to know him and the rest of the team made us feel that much closer to LC3. Thank you for sharing them with us. Thank you for your partnership in service, finances, and prayer.

Prayer Requests:

- Peace and contentment in our home amidst the various stresses that come with life in general and living in Niger.
- The many personnel shortages that exist within SIM Niger including a deputy director, a treasurer, and many teachers and administrators at SIM's school for missionary kids, Sahel Academy.
- SIMAIR – for safety, for another pilot family to join the ministry, for favor with the aviation authority in Niger.
- Next year as we make schooling decisions for our kids and begin to think about all the logistics of a 2024-25 home assignment.

Malawi Cyclone Relief Thank you!

In late February Cyclone Freddy ripped through Malawi leaving a wake of overwhelming destruction. The estimated death toll in Malawi has risen to over 1,000. LC3 Malawi ministry partners Passion Center and IDEAS told us that no one was left untouched by the cyclone, and they have been actively helping people find food and shelter since the storm.

We asked our LC3 family to help these ministries meet immediate needs by donating financially. Together, we were able to send $6,285 to Passion Center and IDEAS to help them continue to help Malawians recover.

Thank you for giving generously to those in need.
