

LC3 Mission in Focus: Marlene Etter

On June 30, I retired from Pioneers, which concludes 37 years of working with mission agencies. Many thanks for years of investing in my spiritual growth and partnering with me to reach the least reached in the world, such as the Muslims in Chad, Africa.

Using my gift of evangelism, and through your finances and prayers, thousands and thousands of gospel recordings, tracts and Bibles have been distributed to countless Muslims. Some have come to Christ and the foundation for church-planting has been laid.

What's next for me? As I transition out of official missionary work, I desire to find ways to still reach the unreached peoples of the world. Twenty-seven years ago, I signed a commitment to do so for the rest of my life. Examples of such groups in the USA include Afghans, Hindus, Somalis and Turks. I also plan to write a memoir to spur Christians on in their faith. God richly bless you for your partnership!

Prayer Requests

- God's guidance as I prepare to write a memoir, and for His anointing on the book.
- Contact with people from "unreached" nations and the Lord to use me to lead them to Christ and disciple them.
- That the Lord would gather Christians (former Muslims) in Chad to form fellowships that develop into churches in the capital of Chad.

A STORY OF ANSWERED PRAYER HALLE WILKENING

In the fall, I will be a junior at Steilacoom High School, and I have been attending Lake City Community Church my whole life. Here is my story from the youth mission trip to Dream Center in Los Angeles.

The week leading up to the Dream Center trip, I was praying God would use my past trials and experiences to help someone else in theirs. Tuesday morning in L.A., we were doing house visits, delivering groceries to houses and praying over people. We visited a woman named Ms. Dorothy. As we were talking to Ms. Dorothy, she explained to us that the doctors think she has breast cancer. As she was explaining to us what was going on, she kept repeating the fact that she was fearful and angry. She had told us that, "Things can't be right," and she was very frustrated with God.

For those of you that don't know me, my mom was diagnosed with breast cancer when I was in 5th grade. Like Ms. Dorothy, I also struggled with being very fearful and angry with God.

After she finished, I went up to her privately. I looked her in the eyes and explained my story. I told her that I was in the same situation with her, and I understood the fearfulness, but that God has a plan for everything. I told her that no matter what, God will always be by her side. After I prayed for her, I looked up, and she was in tears. She hugged me, and said "Thank you baby, I needed this."

Looking back, I am beyond thankful that God answered my prayer and used my past experiences to give hope to someone else.
