“O Come, O Come, Emmanuel”

The promise of a Savior was first made in the Garden of Eden after Adam and Eve sinned. The people of Israel waited several thousand years for this promise to be fulfilled. Waiting is not an easy thing to do. During the year of the COVID pandemic there were many instances when waiting was not valued or done.

Israel had been led into several captivities, and they were under the rule of the Romans when Jesus was born. Their real problem was their sin of worshipping other gods. We, too, can have pet sins that hold us captive from a fuller spiritual life. This Advent is a good time to take a fresh look at our lifestyle and what needs changing. This is also a good time to receive unconditional forgiveness and love from God.

As the verses of this beautiful hymn unfold, we recognize that God's “wisdom from on high” (v. 2) comes to us in the teaching of his Word. Verse 3 speaks of the might and power of God which, too, comes to us through his Word. Verse 4 traces Jesus' roots to Jesse and prays that Jesus would break the power of Satan and give us “victory over the grave.” Verse 5 promises us that Jesus' coming will open the way to “our heavenly home” and “close the path to misery.”

Verses 6 and 7 are a joyful response to the coming of Emmanuel (“God with us”). The refrain emphasizes the message of joy which cannot be dampened by some of the things that happen in our lives.

Prayer: Lord, thank you for giving us this reminder that you have indeed come to us to save us from all of our sins. Help us use this season to focus anew on the relationship you want for us. Amen.
