QUESTIONS FOR FURTHER REFLECTION:

1. Can you think of any examples in your life of a painful circumstance that turned out for good?
2. Chris talked about our tendency to make decisions under the assumption that they will not lead to meaningful consequences. Why do you think we have this tendency? If all of our decisions have far-reaching consequences, what are some ways that you can make wiser choices?
3. Are you moving toward God in your life right now, or are you moving further away from God? (Are you headed for Moab or Bethlehem?)
4. When you are in a place of need, where do you turn? (How is the “urge to save yourself” manifested in your life?)
5. What are some “ordinary” areas of your life that you could be missing the work of God?
6. Share some ways that you feel inadequate. How might those things be opportunities for God to do great things?
