QUESTIONS FOR FURTHER DISCUSSION:

1. Read Matthew 18:15-20. Scott spoke of the responsibility each of us have to not lead others into sin. Can you think of any areas of your life that you could be influencing others for evil? Who would you be willing to accept loving rebuke from in these areas?

2. Do you think forgiving someone is difficult? Explain your answer. When was the last time you really struggled to forgive someone? What could this indicate about your understanding of the forgiveness you have been given in Christ?

3. What's an area of your life that you have been faced with your inadequacy to do what God has called you to? How have you typically responded when you've felt overwhelmed?

4. Do you struggle to believe that Christ has given you everything you need to overcome your struggles? Why is this a struggle? What does trusting Jesus look like in the midst of that struggle?

5. Scott spoke of faith lived out as ordinary obedience. What does your obedience reveals about the health of your faith?
