

The End Is the Beginning

(John 21)

The awful death of Jesus (for our sins) in John 18-19 is followed by the awesome resurrection of Jesus in John 20. John might have ended his gospel right there—with the glorious good news of a risen Savior and with his famous, gracious appeal to believe in Jesus for life (20:30-31). But, thankfully John wrote one more (very necessary) chapter...to show how Jesus responds to followers who fail.

Jesus _____ Himself (1)

to His disciples in order to...

• _____ them (2-14)

• _____ them (15-17) ...

[through the painful process of _____ .]
