consistency

I appreciate consistency. While the time of sunrise and sunset change slightly each day, we know the sun and moon are going to rise and set. The four seasons vary a little bit, but still we know they are coming.

In my younger years, when we tangled a kite in the electric lines, we knew when we called the electric company that the usual lineman was coming to climb the pole and free our kite. Our country doctor, when our parents called for our fevers, during the day he saw us at his clinic and at night (anytime of night) he came to our house to check on us. It is reassuring that many things in life are dependably consistent.

Yet, to me, the most important consistency in life is God's love. God told us He will never leave us or forsake us. God's grace is always there for everyone, from the worst and oldest sinner to the newborn child. His mercy overcomes all of our sin. God kept all the prophecies written in the Old Testament about the coming of Jesus—proof that all the prophecies about the end times either already have or are in the process of being fulfilled.

God consistently keeps His Word. We can rest assured that if we've accepted Jesus as Savior we will spend eternity with Him in Heaven. "But the steadfast love of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him." Psalm 103:17 ESV
