

I Am Woman, Let's Restore

A Biblical Study on Womanhood

Be Who You Are

February 6, 2008

The Challenge: _____ DEFINES _____

What Is the Chief End of Woman?

So, Who Am I?

1) The _____ Question (Ephesians 2:1-10, Romans 5:6-11)

2) If so, who does _____ say we are? (Ephesians 1:3-14)

3) Who are _____? (Romans 8:29)

4) How _____ this person? (2 Peter 1:3-8)

Application

1) _____ (Ephesians 5:15-16, Matthew 15:15-23, 1 Timothy 2:9-10)

2) The role of _____ (Ephesians 3:14-21)

3) First _____, then _____ will be to the glory of God!

Crosspoint Church
Clemson, SC
All Rights Reserved

Week 1 Questions to Ponder

1. As you look forward to the next eight weeks of this Bible Study, what are your greatest fears? What are you excited about most?
2. What issues regarding femininity and gender would you like to get out on the table during this study?
3. What areas in your life, concerning biblical womanhood, would you like to see the most growth?
4. What has had the most influence on how you view womanhood?
5. In what ways have you seen “feminism” influence your thinking and decisions?
6. How would Katie Couric, Hillary Clinton, the women of the The View, or Oprah define what it means to be a woman?
7. What are you defining your life by right now that needs to be stripped away?
8. Read Genesis 1-3 and write down your observations from these chapters, especially concerning the creation of woman (use the back of sheet).

Crosspoint Church
Clemson, SC
All Rights Reserved