

PASTOR'S PEN

Sunday after church my mom got to see the renovated house, she and my dad have called home for nearly 50 years. I am not sure who was more excited for her to see it. One of my cousins has been overseeing the project, choosing the paint colors, flooring, and countertops. Daddy would only tell her how much progress had been made. He was there every day watching and getting excited, knowing how much his wife would love how the house looked. When Mom walked into the house, I saw both of my parents beaming with pleasure. Mom was beaming at seeing her home and Dad was beaming seeing how pleased she was. These two have been married for over 55 years. They have been through so many life experiences filled with both great joy and tragedy, yet there is still such love between them. Their relationship should give all of us hope for our own marriages.

The Block party is coming together. Thank you to all who have volunteered. Let's make sure the donation box gets filled this Sunday. Getting our donations in early will help Frank make sure we have enough eggs for the hunt.

The Deacon Nomination Team has a good list of potential candidates. They will begin contacting those nominated and conducting interviews and background checks. Once they have completed this process those candidates selected will begin a year long time of training and service.
