A Call To Jesus and The Church - Part 2

Answering The Call | Part 6 | 1 Peter 2:1-12

INTRODUCTION

NOTES

As we are in the study of 1 Peter, we are answering the call, and that call is to Jesus and His church. We all need Jesus. And we need Him more and more every single day. Additionally, we also need the body of Christ. We need people in our lives who invest in us. We need the body of Christ to use their spiritual gifts to encourage us, help us, pray for us, and be there for us. So with this in mind, we're going to continue our conversation from last week on the way we answer the call to Jesus and His church.

KEY POINTS

Last Week's Points:

- 1. Turn Your Back On Your Past
- 2. Turn Your Direction Toward Discipleship
- 3. Turn Your Eyes On Jesus

This Week's Points:

1. Turn Your Mind On Your Position

How you see yourself is very important. As you read today's key Scripture passage again, I want you to focus on who you are. We often shame ourselves and put ourselves down, thinking that will help us when it really doesn't. God wants us to focus on our position so that we can be confident in who He says we are.

- "Living stones" built on the chief cornerstone
- "A spiritual house" built on the Rock, together with each other, built on Him
- "Chosen"
- "A holy priesthood offering sacrifices." All believers are priests...
- "A Holy Nation"
- "God's special possession with purpose"...to proclaim praise and declare that He called you from darkness to light.

A Call To Submission

Answering The Call | Part 7 | 1 Peter 2:13-25, 1 Peter 3:1-7

INTRODUCTION

When it comes to the issue of submission, we have battled with that since the Garden, and we still battle with it today. It is not a topic that is easy to preach about or teach about, but it's one worth teaching and preaching about because we are commanded to submit in God's Word. In this message, we are going to look at several principles regarding submission in order to gain a better understanding of what is required of us when we are told to submit, and as we do, we'll see how living a life of submission to Christ is always in our best interest.

KEY POINTS

When we answer the call to submission, we do several things:

1. When we submit to authority, we honor God.
2. When we submit to an authority, we are exercising our freedom.
3. When we submit to an authority, we let our lives do the preaching.
4. When we submit to an authority, we are trusting God for all outcomes.
5. When we submit to an authority, we live without fear.
6. When we submit to an authority, we follow the example of Jesus.

Living in submission means the following:

1. Living in submission reveals just how secure you really are.
2. Living in submission means you don't retaliate.
3. Living in submission means you don't threaten.
4. Living in submission means you leave all things to the Judge.
5. Living in submission like Jesus means you are willing to suffer unjustly, without complaint, trusting God to use your life for His Kingdom.
6. When we submit to an authority, we will still wrestle with our desires.

Jesus told His disciples three things about suffering:

1. He would suffer.
2. He would suffer for others to provide a ransom and remission of sin.
3. All who would follow Him must be prepared to suffer.

When Is It Right To Resist?

Answering The Call | Part 8 | 1 Peter 2:13-17

INTRODUCTION

Today, we're going to be answering the question, "When is it right to resist?" Because we are men and women who love the Lord and love His Word, we are to design our lives and our behavior to align with the Word of God. And sometimes that might require that we resist the world and what it says for the sake of our faith and our beliefs. In order for us to understand resistance, we need to understand what the Bible describes. Let me give you several biblical examples of civil disobedience. I am not sharing this with you to get a crowd together to resist the government or to resist some individual. I want to give you some principles that you can use to guide your life.

KEY POINTS

1. Biblical Examples of Civil Disobedience

- Under Pharaoh's Reign
- In Jericho, Joshua 2 and the story of Rahab
- In Early Israel Under King Ahab
- In Israel before the invasion of Babylon
- In Babylon, the stories of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, and Daniel
- New Testament Resistance

2. Biblical Guidance for Resistance

- If you are going to resist, do so in order not to sin against God.
- If you are going to resist, do so in order to preserve life.
- If you are going to resist, do so in order to combat evil.
- If you are going to resist, do so, if at all possible, through the government system in place.
- If you are going to resist, do so, with an eye on your witness.
- If you are going to resist, do so, in prayer!
- If you are going to resist, do so, willing to pay the price for disobedience.

3. Do Not Resist the Tug of the Holy Spirit!

You need to listen to the tug of the Spirit, especially if you feel led to resist. You need to make sure it is not your flesh that you are responding to, or your convenience that you are listening to, but rather to the tug of the Spirit of God. He will never lead you to do something that God has said, "Don't do." Don't resist the tug of the Holy Spirit.

The Ten B's of Godly Living - Part 2

Answering The Call | Part 10 | 1 Peter 4:1-19

INTRODUCTION

Last week, we looked at the first of the ten b's of godly living according to 1 Peter chapter 4. We talked about how being different can be a really good thing when you're a Christian because other people will notice and you will be able to share Jesus with them when they wonder why you're different. Today, we're going to continue down the list of the ten b's of godly living and see what else Simon Peter has to say to us about how to live a life that honors God and emulates Christ.

KEY POINTS

1. Be Different

- With Mind of Christ
- For the Will of God
- From your Past
- Regardless how Treated
- In View of Judgment
- In Gratitude

2. Be Astute

We need to be astute believers. We need to know what the Word of God says about the last things. Many people have never studied eschatology, the study of the last things. They have never studied prophecy. They have never even looked at the Book of Revelation because of how confusing and intimidating it seems to be. But this is no excuse. We need to be diligent in learning about the end times so we are aware and prepared for what is to come.

Simon Peter is saying, "I want you to be astute. The end of all things is near." You might say, "He said that in the First Century, and it has been a long time." Yes, but they lived every day during that century as if Jesus was ready to come any day. We should strive to live in the very same way.

3. Be Alert

In other words, the Scripture tells us we are to watch the culture and be alert to what is happening right now. The Scripture says, "I want you to be sober-minded. I want you to think clearly, not emotionally. I want you to think clearly on what the Scripture says, in light of what is happening in our culture."

NOTES

HIGHER AIM

The Ten B's of Godly Living - Part 2

Answering The Call | Part 10 | 1 Peter 4:1-19

With this in mind, we need to be careful not to get sucked into our culture because of the relationships we have with the people we love. I have watched this happen so many times over the years I've been in ministry. Young people often decide what is right and what is wrong based on what their friends determine is right and wrong. People who should know better suddenly make poor decisions. A person they love, whether it be a family member or one of their close friends, embraces a lifestyle that is the polar opposite of the Word of God and suddenly they think it's okay. They say, "I shouldn't be the judge, I just need to embrace them and say whatever they think is okay."

But this is not how we are commanded to live according to Scripture. The Bible says you need to be sober-minded. You need to know what is right and what is wrong, and that means being alert, as Simon Peter says in today's key passage.

4. Be Prayerful

Prayer is a very powerful thing because we do our best battling on our knees. When you read the last chapter of the Book of Ephesians, you realize that we are to be men and women who pray. While praying, we are saying, "God, it is up to you. It is up to you to protect my family, and to protect me. It is up to you, Father, to grab hold of someone's heart. It is up to you, God, to do the protection. It's up to you, God, to orchestrate where we go in the days to come. It's up to you, God, to heal my friend or to heal my spouse, or to heal my child. It's up to you, God, in all of these things, I seek you, Lord."

As many people have said, "Prayer is not so much trying to change the mind of God, but rather to align us with the mind of God." Have you ever been praying for something and you wanted it very badly? You were saying, "Oh God, I'm asking you to do this." In the middle of the prayer, God said, "In your spirit, in your heart, I'm glad you are praying about this, but I will do that."

It's a tough thing to completely surrender your wants and requests in order to submit to God. But when we pray with an open heart and the desire to live out His will for our lives, God will work in amazing ways through our prayers.

The 10 B’s Of Godly Living - Part 3

Answering The Call | Part 11 | 1 Peter 4:1-19

INTRODUCTION

The fourth chapter of 1 Peter gives us a wonderful picture of what God desires for us to do in godly living. As we continue our conversation on the 10 B’s of godly living, we’re going to dive deeper into this chapter of Scripture and learn more about how to live a life that honors the Lord and emulates Christ.

KEY POINTS

1. Be Loving

There is an interesting phrase in Scripture that few of us really understand. It follows the command that says, “for love covers a multitude of sins.” Do you know what that is saying? It is saying that if you are really loving, you will be able to see past those things that rub you wrong. In other words, you don’t just love the people who compliment you or who make you laugh. You don’t just love those who give you joy or help you in your walk with Christ.

We are also called to love people who chafe us. We are to get over those things that bother us and get under our skin. Often the first thing we want to do is run to get them out of our lives. But the sooner we embrace people like that, the sooner God will help us move toward maturity. If we want to live a godly life, we have to learn to be loving.

2. Be Hospitable

Being hospitable means opening your home to someone without grumbling or complaining. But why is this required to live a godly life? I’ll tell you why. Hospitality opens the door for evangelism.

Have you ever thought that if someone came and stayed at your house, you would have time with them? You would have breakfast with them, maybe lunch, and possibly dinner with them. That would give you multiple opportunities to find out where they are in their life and in their walk with God. So with this in mind, Peter is saying, as you open your house, there will be opportunities to share Christ with others, and we need to take those opportunities when they arise.

A Call To Leadership (Part 2)

Answering The Call | Part 16 | 1 Peter 5:1-4

INTRODUCTION

As we continue our study of 1 Peter, we are going to talk more about leadership. Chapter 5 of 1 Peter has so much to say about what it looks like to be a godly leader. Last week we talked about the first three characteristics of Christlike leadership, and today, we are going to talk about four more. Let's dive in.

KEY POINTS

1. God's leaders must be ethical in all things.

The Bible says God's leaders "should not be pursuing dishonest gain." Even in business, being ethical is important. Ethics is the study of what you ought to be doing. Leaders should always be ethical, doing the right things, the right way, at the right time, and with the right motive. When we lead in an ethical way, we are leading in a godly way.

2. God's leaders should be passionate to serve.

If you want to be a Christlike leader, you should be excited and eager to serve. If you don't have passion for what you do, you will not be doing it for very long. Do you realize that money is not a great motivator? Studies indicate that if you give someone a raise, they will forget about it within two weeks. Money is not a proper motivation. The passion to serve, the passion to do what you have been assigned to do in business or in ministry by the Lord, is very powerful. You must have passion to lead like Jesus. If you lose your passion, you will not be doing what you're doing for very long. If you lose that deep desire to do what God has called you to do, your eyes will be looking elsewhere.

3. God's leaders must set an example.

We often discount the opportunities that God gives us because we don't want to fail in front of other people and give them the excuse to blame God or blame us. But God doesn't want His leaders to be leading because they feel the pressure to set an example. You become the example in the process.

A Call To Leadership (Part 2)

Answering The Call | Part 16 | 1 Peter 5:1-4

If you look at today's key passage, you realize several things. Yes, God wants His leaders to set the right kind of example in how they live and how they do ministry. But if we look at how this verse translates from the Greek, it says, "But examples becoming of the flock." This is an important concept because "becoming" is in a tense that describes "continually in process." You become the example that God wants you to be as you are involved in ministry and involved in leadership. It is a journey, not a destination.

4. God's leaders must live expectantly.

Living in today's time is special because we can look forward to Jesus coming back. It is important as godly leaders that we live with expectation for the day that Jesus returns to take us to our heavenly home. Only then will we be able to offer back to Him the rewards He gives us for our godly labor and leadership.

A Call To The Right Attitudes (Part 1)

Answering The Call | Part 17 | 1 Peter 5:5-11

INTRODUCTION

The last half of 1 Peter chapter 5 is great place to focus as we take this last lap in the book of 1 Peter. I have thoroughly enjoyed going through the verses in this book, pulling out the nuggets of wisdom for my life and yours. In these last several verses, we find several attitudes that are very important for us to have. Regardless of where we are in life and what we have experienced, we desperately need these right attitudes to be ours.

KEY POINTS

1. Develop a teachable spirit in your life.

Peter's first focus in this section of Scripture is younger people learning from their elders. Regardless of how old you are, there is always someone older than you. You can find someone who has experienced something that you are going through right now. They have already taken a couple of laps around the block. They have several of those t-shirts in their closet of the experience you are going through at this time. So we need to be diligent in developing a teachable spirit so we can learn from those who have gone before us.

To get more specific, I want to give you a list of things you can do that will help you develop a teachable spirit.

- Be open to developing a teachable spirit.
- Admit to yourself that you don't know everything.
- Practice listening to others and their journey.
- Think twice before you enter any conversation.
- Refuse to make interchanges with others about you.
- Receive correction graciously.

A Call To The Right Attitudes (Part 2)

Answering The Call | Part 18 | 1 Peter 5:5-7

INTRODUCTION

In the last couple of verses of 1 Peter chapter 5, Simon Peter gives the people some guidance on how to develop proper attitudes. We need to have the right attitude in order to live the Christian life like God wants us to live it. Unless we get our attitudes right, it will be difficult to hit the ball down the middle of the fairway when it comes to our faith.

KEY POINTS

1. Develop a teachable spirit in your life.

A Call To The Right Attitudes (Part 3)

Answering The Call | Part 19 | 1 Peter 5:5-11

INTRODUCTION

God wants us to learn how to cast our anxiety on Him. We are a very anxious people. Some 46 million American adults deal with anxiety. Do you know that between the ages of 18 and 25, about 50 % deal with anxiety? For adults older than 25, roughly 32-38 % deal with anxiety. So, sadly this is a very common issue across humanity. It is not only true for our culture now, but it applies to every culture. That is why the words of Jesus in Matthew, as well as Simon Peter's admonition in today's key passage, are so important. If we are going to answer the call to the right attitudes, as we are discussing in this mini-series, we need to pay close attention to what Jesus says about handling our anxiety.

KEY POINTS

1. Destroy The Curse Of Anxiety In Your Life

Anxiety is a curse; it is part of our human condition. Many of us come from families where our parents or grandparents are simply overwhelmed with anxiety at all times. They have been anxious for so long that they are known for their anxiousness. And to go a step further, it has been excused by saying, "That's just how they process things."

But let me make it clear that God's plan for your life is that you will not live with anxiety. He wants us to learn how to get all the way through our anxiety. So with that in mind, let's look at the practical steps we can take to destroy the curse of anxiety.

- Uncover where is the root of anxiety in your life
- Unmask the spiritual problem in your life
- Unleash the line attached to your anxiety
 - Practice letting go of your anxiety in prayer.
 - Leave your net of anxiety or your line of worry in the water.
 - Acknowledge which issues create your greatest stress.
 - When tempted to spin out of control, see point a.
 - Refuse to justify returning to emotional turmoil.
 - Focus your attention on doing the things you actually have control over.
 - Resist holding on to any thought that directs you away from the Lord.
 - Look forward to the future with hope.
