A Call From Peter

Answering The Call | Part 1 | 1 Peter 1:1-2

INTRODUCTION

The book of 1 Peter was written to believers who were facing persecution. And it's important for us to understand this particular book of the Bible because as time goes on, we as Christians will face more and more persecution and opposition for what we believe. The Scripture that we will be studying will shake your heart, and help you understand what God has for you in the days to come. As believers, we could experience more and more persecution, as the Second Coming of Jesus approaches. Therefore it is absolutely vital that we take this Scripture and use it to prepare our hearts for what could be coming down the road.

KEY POINTS

1. The Servant

You can't read today's key passage without understanding that Peter cast a long shadow of influence and leadership in the early church. Peter's life was all about Jesus! His whole life was wrapped up in Jesus. He lived for Jesus. He spoke and proclaimed Christ. That is what he was all about; from the moment he followed Christ to the moment he would shut his eyes in death, his life was all about Jesus. He lived to serve His Savior, regardless of whatever opposition and persecution he faced. He was the picture of a true servant, and that's an example we should all strive to follow.

2. The Saints

"The Saints" are God's elect. Peter wrote the letter of 1 Peter to God's elect, the chosen. The Greek word, "eklektois" means "chosen." But what is very interesting is that these saints are described not only as chosen, but also they are called exiles. The Greek word here is an interesting word. The Greek word is, "parepidamous" which means an alien, a temporary resident. They are sojourners. Because of persecution from the Jews and Rome, they are temporary residents, or Jews living outside of Jerusalem or Palestine. This description is used to describe sojourners, people who are on a journey. They will walk with Christ all the way to heaven.

It is from this passage that we have the important reminder that this world is not your home! Peter's Letter captures this concept. We have to stop living like this world is our home. We are just passing through to have an influence upon this culture until God calls us home.

3. The Salutation

There is a very common greeting that Peter says to the saints in his book, "Grace and peace be yours in abundance." The Greek word for Grace is "Charis" which means "God's unmerited favor." The Greek word for Peace is "Iranan." That's where we get the word "Irene." It means "Peace." It literally reads like this in the Koine Greek, "Grace to you and peace be multiplied to you."

Life Application

- God has a plan for your life.
- Knowing who you are in Christ is critical to your spiritual maturity.
- Live to be a blessing to others

A Call To Hope

Answering The Call | Part 2 | 1 Peter 1:3-12

INTRODUCTION

Hope is the belief that circumstances will get better. It's not a wish for things to get better -- it's the actual belief, the knowledge that things will get better, no matter how big or small. Today's key passage from 1 Peter 1 is a call to experience that kind of hope. God wants all of His children to live in hope. He does not want you to live hopelessly in this world. The poorest person is not he or she without a dollar; it is the person who is living without hope. I pray that as we go through this content together, you would get engaged with the hope that God has for you and live a rich, hope-filled life.

KEY POINTS

1. The Author Of Hope

Although hope can be learned, the only way it can be sustained is through the relationship you have with the Author of hope, and that is God. Scripture tells us, if you want your hope to last, you must make sure that you are plugged into the Author of hope. He is God the Father, through Jesus Christ.

2. The Pathway To Hope

The Scripture says, "In his great mercy he has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead." Salvation is the key to experiencing this everlasting hope that God wants you to have. This new birth in Christ produces a "living hope." The phrase, "living hope" is in the present active participle, which means it is continuous. This living hope continues to pump through your veins, through your heart, and through your mind. And it comes as a result of your relationship with Jesus Christ, who was resurrected from the dead. Without Him, there is no pathway to hope.

3. The Future Of Hope

The Scripture continues talking about "The Future of Hope." It literally says, "You have an inheritance; your focus is on the future inheritance." The Greek word here is, "Kleronomian." It is an old Greek word describing, "Property received by the heir from the benefactor." This is a picture of God's wealth. He is our benefactor, and we are heirs of what He has. Our inheritance is coming from Him. God owns everything! And we can have hope because of that truth!

4. The Testing Of Hope

Hope gets tested in life. You will definitely go through testing times in your life. An immature or unbiblical believer might think that once you give your life to Christ, everything will be great. Everything will be roses. You will always have money in your bank account. You won't have any problems. God will make you healthy, wealthy, and extremely wise. But think again! Part of following Jesus is enduring trials and suffering. But we don't have to let these hard times get the best of us because we have hope in Jesus Christ!

5. The Power Of Hope

Hope doesn't have to see it right now. Hope flows out of faith. Hope produces joy. Hope is the indescribable gift that glorifies God in the middle of what you are experiencing. Because you see the purpose of that tribulation, you realize that God is creating a platform for you to shine for His Glory. When you go through pain, sorrow, and challenges in your life, it brings glory and honor to Jesus Christ. People will see your light shine. You don't have to make a big deal out of it. They watch you; they see it, feel it, and sense it. That brings glory and honor to Christ because you are pointing people back to His power!

6. The Revelation Of Hope

We can read the revelation of hope by reading Scripture and seeing with the prophets in the Bible had to say. This is what Peter points us to in today's key passage when he specifically points out the prophets and what they had to say. I would encourage you to go back and do your own study of Scripture, specifically the Old Testament to see what the prophets had to say about hope.

Life Application

- If you need hope, make sure you are a believer.
- If you need hope, ask God to allow it to come alive in you.
- If you need hope, find other believers who are living victoriously, in spite of the odds.
- If you need hope, ask God to give you insight as to how He is using your present situation to make an impact for eternity.
- If you need hope, press on toward the future, refusing to look in the rear-view mirror.

A Call To Holiness

Answering The Call | Part 3 | 1 Peter 1:13-21

INTRODUCTION

Even though Peter might be one of the most “famous” people in the Bible, he was the furthest thing from a goody-two-shoes. In fact, he was probably considered to be a pretty unlikely choice to be one of Jesus’ disciples. Nevertheless, Jesus chose him. After Peter began to follow Christ, he learned what it meant to be a disciple. He wasn’t perfect. In fact, God chose a very imperfect man to lead the first megachurch that ever existed on this planet. After all, Peter was the very man who denied Jesus three times. He even used profanity to deny him the last time! After he repented, God used him to bring thousands of people to faith in Christ. Slowly but surely, this man moved toward purity and holiness. The man who was once full of himself learned to be humble. He could take a rebuke and still keep on following Christ. Years later, this very same man is calling (through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit) for us to live differently from the evil culture in which we exist. So right now, we’re going to take a look at what Peter says on how we are to fulfill our calling to be holy.

KEY POINTS

1. Choose To Live Out Of Our Living Hope

The only way you will be able to sustain a lifestyle of holiness is to live out of the hope that you have in Christ Jesus. It is out of your relationship with Him that the lifestyle which God wants you to have is produced.

In other words, stop trying to be holy in your own strength. Instead, follow the desire on the inside of your heart as you keep your eyes on Jesus. Allow that to be your focus, not your works. If you try to do holy things, you will be frustrated. You will find yourself being manipulated by your own mind. God wants you to live in accordance with His Word and His Spirit so that you can show others how to be holy only by the power of Christ in you.

2. Come To Attention

To come to attention means to come to a place where your mind is fully alert. And that’s what Peter is calling us to do. When he uses the phrase, “fully sober,” in today’s key text, he is not talking about drunkenness at all. He is talking about focusing your mind. To put it in basic terms, Peter is saying, “I want you to get yourself together. I want you to get serious about walking this path of holiness. Stop playing around! I want you to perfectly get your mind together in this focus of being holy.”

3. Celebrate Grace

If we have received Jesus Christ, we need to celebrate grace. The church should know what it is like to be full of grace. God's people need to learn what it means to be full of grace. It is to be given something they don't deserve. This includes respect, honor, applause, acceptance, and love. None of us deserve these things, but Jesus has chosen to give them to us. We need to be celebrators of grace.

4. Cut The Old Life Out And Let The New Life Flow

This statement is easier said than done, but it's exactly what we are called to do as Christians. But how do you get rid of your old life? Because you are in this skin suit, your flesh wants to be rebellious. So how do you get rid of those evil desires? Do you just discipline yourself? Unfortunately, it's not that simple. Thankfully, today's key passage speaks specifically about how to cut the old life out and let the new life flow.

- Set your mind on being an obedient child of God.
- Don't give in to how you used to live before you met Christ.
- Look to Jesus.

5. Cultivate A Personal Biblical Worldview

In verse 17, Peter says you are to live as a foreigner, as a stranger who is just traveling through life. The mentality is that you are just passing through. You are to look at this world and define how it should be based on what the Bible says, not what everyone likes. Who cares what Congress thinks? Who cares what the President thinks? You need to care about what Jesus thinks. This Scripture is saying to look at the world through the lens of the Lord's will and determine that you will live like that.

6. Confess Daily What Your Redemption Cost

Simon Peter says you weren't purchased by monetary means; you were purchased by the blood of Jesus. He is the Lamb, which is a phrase that all the Jews who were reading this understood. Jesus was and is our Passover Lamb. Therefore, God wants you to thank Him daily that He has saved you. With this knowledge, we should be eager to confess our sins to Him and thank Him for redeeming us and not leaving us separated from Him for eternity.

A Call To The Bible

Answering The Call | Part 4 | 1 Peter 1:22-25

INTRODUCTION

We need to come to an understanding as to why we are called to the Bible. As we look at today’s key passage, we are going to see that Simon Peter and God’s Spirit are calling us to the Bible. Therefore, we need to know why we stand on the Bible. After all, without the Bible, we are just a social gathering. We are just here to encourage one another, rather than grow closer to the Lord. His Word is very powerful, and therefore we can confidently stand on it and root our faith in what it says.

KEY POINTS

1. We answer the call to the Bible because of our redemption.

We stand on the Word of God because we got saved. In other words, our sins were forgiven. Sometimes, when we use words like “saved,” people who have not been exposed to Christianity, will say, “Saved from what?” With “born again,” they ask, “What does that mean?” “Redeemed” is another spiritual word. It means that all of your sins have been forgiven. They have been wiped off your slate. You are considered spotless, acceptable, clean, and loved, all because of what Jesus did for you on the cross. Do you know why I can say that with confidence? Because the Word of God says that.

2. We answer the call to the Bible because it is true.

Truth is very important. There are not two different truths. If there is a truth for you and a truth for me, that dichotomy is a lie! We are in a culture that is teaching that today. Our kids are taught falsehoods. If they believe something is okay for them, that's their truth. Another person could choose a different truth. Two different truths cannot exist side by side in the area of morality. In God's Word, there is only one truth! In 2 Timothy, it says this, “All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness, so that the servant of God may be thoroughly equipped for every good work” (2 Timothy 3:16-17). I want you to know that the Bible is true. We can have confidence in that, and when we do, our faith grows.

To break it down for you even further, here are five reasons why the Bible is reliable and true:

- It is completely unique.
- It is scientifically accurate.
- It is prophetically accurate.

A Call To The Bible

- It is miraculously powerful.
- It is authoritatively demanding.

3. We answer the call to the Bible because it has changed our lives.

People come from many different backgrounds. But regardless of where you come from, if you have had an encounter with Jesus Christ, you are a believer. It has changed how you live, what you do, and what the priorities are in your life. In fact, the Bible tells us in 1 Peter that the reason why we love each other is because God has changed us.

We would not love others with care and selflessness if it were not for the power of Christ residing in us. In our flesh, we are selfish, self-focused human beings who love ourselves more than anything else. But when we surrender our lives to Christ and choose to live for Him, we love others with the love that we've been given in Christ, and that kind of love changes our lives forever.

4. We answer the call to the Bible because it lasts.

God's Word is the one thing that will never, ever change! Scripture tells us, "Grass and flesh will dry up and die, but the Word of God will remain forever." The only thing that will last is the Word of God. Remember what Jesus said in Matthew, "For truly I tell you, until heaven and earth disappear, not the smallest letter, not the least stroke of a pen, will by any means disappear from the Law until everything is accomplished" (Matthew 5:18).

5. We answer the call to the Bible because it's the best news on the planet.

Our key passage reads like this, "but the word of the Lord remains unto the age." This word preached is the Koine Greek word "Euaggelisthen." It is translated as "the Good News." The Bible is not trying to ruin your life or control your life. It is trying to keep you out of the ditches, keep you on the Interstate, and headed in the right direction. It is the Good News, and that should give us so much hope, comfort, and peace!

Key Takeaways

1. Never apologize for what the Bible says; instead, declare it.
2. Refuse to be mad or irritated at friends who don't believe the Bible; remember, they need Jesus.
3. Thank the Lord daily for His Word.
