

The Value of The Resurrection

This is to help the younger ones follow along a bit more easier. Print it out for each of your children who are able to write and follow along. Make sure you help them get each point filled in. If they are able to do it on their own make sure to praise them (toss them a cookie or treat). Encourage the ones prone to wander in their minds to keep fighting to focus and reward them when you see them in the fight. We left some extra room for those who are older who may want to make additional notes rather than merely filling in the blanks. Expect more from a fourteen year old than you do from an eight year old.
