This is a faithful saying: If a man desires the position of a bishop, he desires a good work.

1 Timothy 3:1, nKgV

We may understand his statement in terms of the prestige and respect given to Christian leaders today. But such was far from Paul's mind. In his day, a bishop faced great danger and worrisome responsibility. Rewards for the work of leading the church were hardship, contempt, rejection, and even death. The leader was the first to draw fire in persecution, first in line to suffer.
