THE CARR FAMILY

As many of you know, Laura has faced a long and difficult medical journey over the past several months. After multiple surgeries, stays in the ICU, and ongoing complications, she and her family have shown incredible resilience. Now, it is our turn to surround them with the love and financial support they need as they focus on her healing.

Please join us for an evening of food, fellowship, and community as we raise funds to help cover medical expenses and household needs during this trying time.

Whether you can stay for the whole evening or just drop by to show your support, every prayer and every contribution makes a difference. Let's come together to show Laura and her family that they are not walking this path alone!
