The Message—Notes

DON'T WASTE YOUR FREEDOM

“Christ has set us free to enjoy our freedom. So remain strong in the faith. Don’t let the chains of slavery hold you again.” ~ Galatians 5:1 (NIrV)

Freedom is not an idea that started with the American revolution. It has been in the heart of man since the very beginning. Throughout history we’ve imagined different ways freedom should look, but the ideal has always been there because it’s how we are created.

Freedom has to have some limits though. Anytime a culture tries to live in absolute freedom, we find that is not paradise but the opposite. If there aren’t limits on freedom, then we trample over one another in the exercise of our own freedom. As my dad used to say, “Your freedom to swing your fist ends at the tip of my nose.”

Living in a fallen world and tending toward laziness, we aren’t always good stewards of our freedom. We take the path of least resistance and let those who are appointed to keep order make more and more rules that limit our freedom. Like the frog being boiled slowly, by the time we realize how little freedom we have left, it’s too late.

I think many of us tend to those same extremes of unlimited or overly limited freedom in our spiritual lives. Spiritually we are born as slaves to sin, and many of us live our entire lives in that bondage. Since we can’t see the chains, we don’t think much about it. But this bondage is far worse than physical captivity because it leads to eternal death in hell. For those of us who find Jesus, we have been set free spiritually. Sin is no longer our master. That’s REALLY GOOD NEWS!

Unfortunately, many people use their freedom in Jesus as a license to sin without consequences. They quote the first part of Paul’s statement to the church at Corinth, “Everything is permissible,” but they never see what follows immediately after, “But not everything is beneficial.” Others become so focused on being “good enough” that they invent all kinds of rules that God never even gave us to make sure they don’t sin. These well-meaning folks will say things like, “Women must wear dresses to church.”

In his letter to the church at Galatia, Paul reminds us that Jesus set us free so we can be strong in faith. As we celebrate American freedom, don’t waste your spiritual freedom. Use it to live by faith!

Love y’all,
Pastor Larry
