My Decision Today

- I am accepting Jesus as my Savior.
- I want to talk to an elder about being baptized.
- I am repenting after wandering away from my commitment to Jesus.
- I want to be a member of Real Life Church.
- I want to serve on a ministry team at Real Life Church.

The Message—Notes

REJOICING IN WEAKNESS

“Each time He said, ‘My grace is all you need. My power works best in weakness.’ So now I am glad to boast about my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ can work through me. That’s why I take pleasure in my weaknesses, and in the insults, hardships, persecutions, and troubles that I suffer for Christ. For when I am weak, then I am strong.” ~ 2 Corinthians 12:9-10 (NLT)

Have you ever played one of those games where you have to do something without using your dominant hand? Maybe you’ve had the misfortune to injure it at some point, and you had to muddle through using your other hand for a while. And it probably felt like it lasted forever! It’s very frustrating, isn’t it? Things you could do easily with your dominant hand become an exercise in futility with the other one.

Yet through the apostle Paul, God says to us that we should rejoice in our weakness; rejoice in being forced to use our weak hand to do kingdom work; rejoice that God calls us to tasks that we have no strength of our own to accomplish. That seems wrong to us, because we’ve always been told to bring our best to God. We naturally assume that means we should do for God whatever we’re best at, and leave the rest for others with strengths where we are weak. But God says we should rejoice in our weakness, because it gives Him the opportunity to show His grace and power through us.

I don’t think this passage means we should never use our strengths to serve God, but I think it clearly says that if we are only willing to serve within our comfort zone and from our strengths, we are missing the opportunity to experience God’s Holy Spirit working through us to accomplish things through our weaknesses that we can’t do.

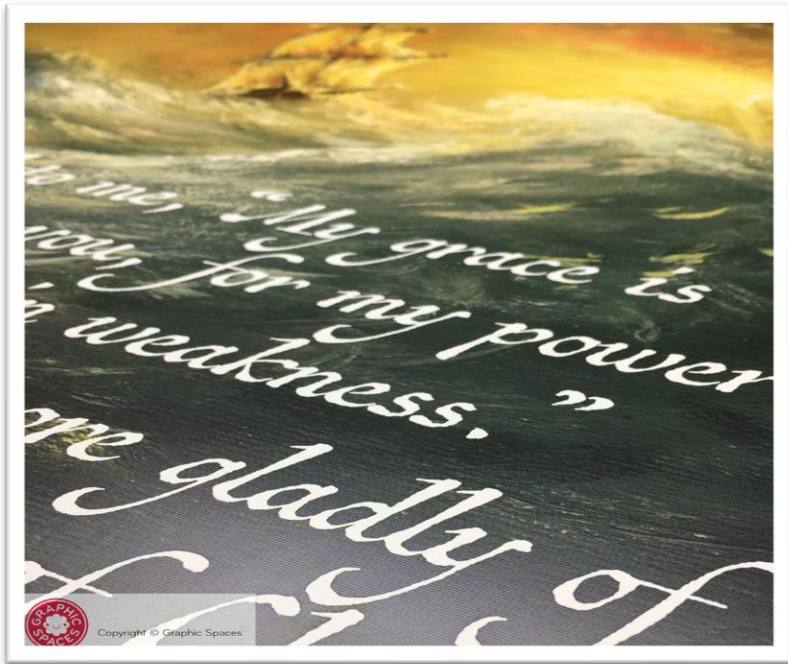

Where is God saying to you, “Trust Me! I can work through your weakness to accomplish this if you will rejoice in it!” I’ve seen some of you say, “Yes God—use me,” and He’s done awesome things. Let me encourage all of us to lean on not just our strengths, but also our weaknesses and serve God with all our lives.

Love y’all,
Pastor Larry
