Rickie started teaching after he graduated and ended his teaching career as a middle school social studies and geography teacher for the Hallsville School District from 1985 to 1991. Since that time, he was self-employed as a house sitter, taking care of animals, plants, making sure the houses looked lived in for others until retiring in 2015. Rickie was a lover of animals, especially cats, big and small. He would likely want anyone who wants to donate to give a donation to the Central Missouri Humane Society, as we adopted most of our pets from them.
