

Confidence // Calling

Did you know that if the enemy can destroy your confidence, he doesn't have to worry about you walking in your calling? If you don't know your identity in Christ, you'll have nothing to stand on when the enemy hurls his insults your direction. We must rid our minds with the rhetoric of the world and instead plant the word of God in our hearts. Friend- if I let the enemy sell the garbage he's been slinging my direction over the past decade— I'd be as far from this ministry as possible. Satan will never worry about the threat of our calling if we entertain his attacks against our confidence. our ability doesn't rest in us. Oh no. It solely rests in the Father. So the next time the enemy comes knocking, tell him you don't have time for his distraction and you're walking in the FULLNESS. in Jesus name.
