1.Hear my prayer, O God, for mer - cy; — do not hide Your-self from me!
2.There is vio - lence in the city, — day and night up - on its walls.
3.So I call to God who saves me, — eve-ning, morn - ing and at noon.

Come and an - swer; I am rest-less — from the noise of en - e - mies.
Sin and troub - le are with - in it. — There's op - pres - sion; there is fraud.
I cry out; the LORD will hear me, — and my soul He will re - deem.

For the wick - ed press in an - ger. — They bring troub - le; they bring death.
And it's not a foe who taunts me; — that is some-thing I could bear.
Man - y are ar - rayed a - gainst me; — God will hear and hum - ble them.

Fear and trem - bling are up - on me; — I am ov - er - whelmed with - in.
But it's you with whom I coun - seled, my com - pan - ion and my friend.
God, en - throned through - out the ag - es, — all my hope is found in Him.
