Advent Sermon Series:

What Are You Waiting For?

The hymn, "O Come O Come Emmanuel" captures the spirit of advent. It tells of the deep longing for God to break into the world; a longing that was met with the birth of Jesus. This longing continues, as we wait with expectation for Jesus to come again, and again. Join us this advent as, along with the prophets of old, we await the coming of the Messiah.

Confession

Peggy Sue Wright / Anna Fe Rebadavia

Dear God,

We know we are to wait and watch, to be your watchman, to tell others of your grace and mercy, to show others the way to you. Yet so often we are impatient. We want a plan with full details, with all the specifics about who and when.
When you ask us to wait and have faith, we get anxious and fill in the waiting with our wants. We know you include all in your plan, and we know you demand justice.
Our limited logic can't make that work, so we substitute our list of who you include and who you exclude in your plan. We know you ask of us grace to all of your creatures, that we be your hands and feet reaching out to all.
Yet we often reach only to our circle, afraid there isn't enough of your love and grace, or sure justice is what is needed not grace, circumventing your plan with our plan.
Hear us as we pray...
