

The Spirit Sends Peter to the Gentiles (Acts 10:17-23a) 7/21/24

Review

Acts 10-11 chronicle how the _____ separating Jews and Gentiles came tumbling down in the _____.

Despite Cornelius's _____, and devotion to the true God, he could not be saved apart from a correct understanding of the _____ of Jesus Christ.

The next day, Peter, fell into a _____ during his noontime prayers and while waiting to _____.

Peter _____ the command to eat these animals because he had zealously kept the _____ laws all his life, believing such a commitment to being kosher was _____ by God.

The entire point of the clean/unclean _____ was simply to teach God's people that His way was the _____ way, and all others were _____.

God is making clear to Peter that something has _____.

The Holy Spirit Reassures Peter of this Divine Appointment (vv. 17-20)

greatly perplexed (diaporeo) =

It's no wonder that Peter was perplexed. How should one _____ a dream or vision which cuts so _____ across long-established principles and _____?

The meaning of the vision was _____...a negative and a positive

1. On the negative side, it signified the _____ of the Old Testament dietary restrictions

Cross references:

2. On the positive side, the vision pictured the _____ of both the Gentiles and the Jews into one _____

Notes on the arrival of the men who had been sent by Cornelius:

Peter could not possibly doubt that this visit was a _____ appointment.

The Holy Spirit reassured Peter by perfectly _____ His working in Cornelius and in Peter.

God not only sovereignly _____ Cornelius and Peter but also sovereignly determined and arranged the _____ of bringing them together.

Peter Welcomes the Men Sent by Cornelius (vv. 21-23a)

The Bible repeatedly teaches that _____ accompanies true faith.

well spoken of \(martyreo\) =

to send for you \(metapempo\) =

We can reasonably assume that Peter had never been in a _____ home.

God has chosen to use the method of _____ as the means to spread the gospel to unbelievers.

lodging \(xenizo\) =

Peter had a hard time letting the _____ law go, but had no animosity in his heart toward _____ at this point.