

Is There Room in Your Heart for Jesus? (Eph. 3:17) 12/27/2020

Introduction

Emily Elliott wrote the carol Thou Didst Leave Thy Throne. The chorus sung at the end of each verse repeats the following _____: "O come to my heart, Lord Jesus, there is _____ in my heart for Thee."

Notes from King David's prayer in Ps. 132:1-5:

What it Means to Dwell

Eph. 3:14-19 is a prayer for believers to be spiritually _____ to put into practice the truths of our _____ spelled out in chapters 1-3.

Dwell =

Cross references on dwell:

The antonym, or _____, of this word is the idea of wandering about not having a _____ dwelling place.

In the context of Eph. 3, Paul is speaking of your _____ being the home, and _____ dwelling in it.

This prayer deals with the kind of _____ reception Jesus receives from believers.

Wayne Barber described dwell as meaning: _____ accommodated in every _____.

Jesus will have nothing less than taking up full _____ in our hearts.

Application

If your home is a metaphor for your heart, how " _____ " is Jesus in it?

Is there any part of your heart that is _____ - _____ to Jesus, or that is too _____ for Him to fully dwell in?

1. If Jesus is to be fully accommodated in every room, then we have to make every room _____ to Him. Notes:

2. There cannot be rooms in your heart that are so _____ that Jesus can't even fit in. Notes:

How do we assess whether there is room in our hearts for Jesus?

1. Am I _____ house for Him?

2. Am I making _____ for Him?

May Christ dwell in your hearts through faith!