The Prayer

Father, we come to You with these names in our hands. They aren't just names on a card. They're sons and daughters You love, people You formed in their mother's womb and have been chasing their whole lives.

You said You're "not willing that any should perish" (2 Peter 3:9). We agree with Your heart. We want what You want. We want every one of these people in Your house.

Speak each name on your list out loud, one at a time.

Lord, open their eyes. Second Corinthians 4:4 says the god of this world has blinded the minds of them which believe not. In the name of Jesus, we break that blindness off their minds. Let the light of the glorious gospel of Christ shine on them. Turn them "from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God" (Acts 26:18).

Jesus, You said "No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him" (John 6:44). So Father, draw them. Draw them in their sleep. Draw them on their drive to work. Draw them in the quiet moments when they're alone with their thoughts. Let them feel Your goodness and not be able to shake it.

Holy Spirit, go before us. Soften the ground of their hearts. Take down every wall built by hurt, religion, disappointment, or pride. Where someone's been wounded by a church or by Christians, heal that wound so it doesn't keep them from You.

And Lord, open the doors. When trial comes into their lives, let us be the ones standing there with hope. When tragedy knocks, let us show up with Your comfort. When transition shakes up their world, let us be the friend who says there's a place for them in Your house. Give us eyes to see the moment, and don't let us miss it.

Father, we pray for ourselves. You said to pray the Lord of the harvest to send laborers into His harvest (Matthew 9:38). Here we are. Send us.

Give us boldness. Take the fear out of our mouths. Give us the right words at the right time, and the courage to say them. When the Spirit says "go near," let us go. Let our lives match our message at home, at work, and on the street.

Fill us with Your love for these ten. Let us love them when they're difficult, pray for them when they're far away, and keep believing when we don't see anything changing yet.

We commit to invite them. We commit to tell them about Jesus. We commit to walk with them when they say yes, to bring them into Your church, and to help them grow.

Father, we declare it by faith. Before this time next year, we'll see names on this list come to Jesus. We'll see them baptized. We'll see them sitting in Your house worshipping the same God they used to run from. We'll hear their testimonies.

Faithful is He that calleth us, who also will do it (1 Thessalonians 5:24). We believe it. We receive it. We're going after them.

In the mighty name of Jesus, amen.

Keep this list in your Bible or as your lock screen. See it every day, pray it every day.
