

Understanding God's Mercy

As we step into a new year, it's important to understand that nothing in life happens automatically. Success, blessing, and spiritual growth all require intentional planning, preparation, and action. Most importantly, they require our cooperation with God's mercy and grace.

What Does It Mean That God's Mercy Endures Forever?

When we read in Psalm 136 that "His mercy endures forever," we're seeing something profound about God's character. This isn't just a nice religious phrase - it reveals that God actively chooses to withhold what we deserve and instead gives us what we need.

Mercy means not getting what you deserve after sinning. When God shows mercy, He's holding back judgment. This requires endurance on God's part - just like a runner who must push through fatigue, God endures with us through our failures, mistakes, and rebellion.

Understanding God's Personal Nature

God isn't like artificial intelligence - unfeeling and unaffected by our actions. He's deeply personal and can be grieved, frustrated, and even angered by our choices. Yet His mercy endures forever because He chooses to be patient with us.

When we praise God, we're actually encouraging Him and ministering to Him. Our relationship with God affects Him deeply, which is why our repentance refreshes Him and our rebellion grieves Him.

What Can We Learn from Job About God's Mercy?

Many people misunderstand the book of Job, thinking it shows that God sends both good and bad into our lives. However, James 5:11 tells us what we should actually learn from Job's story: "You have heard of the perseverance of Job and seen the end intended by the Lord - that the Lord is very compassionate and merciful."

Job's story teaches us two key things:

- Human endurance and perseverance in difficult times
- God's incredible compassion and mercy toward us

Job remained faithful to God even when he thought God was behind his troubles. His endurance allowed him to eventually receive understanding and come to repentance. But repentance is only possible because of God's mercy.

How Do We Receive God's Mercy?

Repentance itself is a gift of God's mercy. We can't even turn to God without His grace drawing us. When we acknowledge our failures and turn to God, we're actually refreshing and encouraging Him.

The key is to never go silent on God when we mess up. Instead of hiding our failures, we should:

- Acknowledge where we've missed the mark
- Confess our sins and ask for forgiveness
- Receive His cleansing from all unrighteousness
- Get back up and keep pursuing righteousness

The Danger of Taking Mercy for Granted

While God's mercy endures forever for those who receive it, there's a warning in Scripture. In Genesis 6:3, God said, "My Spirit shall not strive with man forever." There comes a point where people can become so hardened that they consistently reject God's mercy.

In Revelation 2, Jesus speaks of giving someone "time to repent," but when they refused, judgment followed. God doesn't want to give up on anyone, but He won't force His mercy on those who continually reject it.

Why Is This a "Last Call" Message?

As we enter this new year, it represents a fresh start and new beginning. For many, this could be a last call - a final opportunity to receive God's mercy before facing the consequences of their choices.

This isn't meant to create fear, but urgency. While we have the opportunity, we should:

- Humble ourselves before God
- Acknowledge His mercy and goodness
- Repent of anything that's not aligned with His will
- Receive His forgiveness and cleansing

How Can We Live Without Sin?

Jesus told the woman caught in adultery, "Neither do I condemn you; go and sin no more." This wasn't just wishful thinking - it was an expectation. We don't have to sin. We can live righteous, holy lives through God's grace.

The key is having endurance with the process. When we fall, we get back up. When we fail, we repent and receive mercy. We don't give up on ourselves because God doesn't give up on us.

Life Application

This week, make a conscious decision to acknowledge God's mercy in every area of your life. Create your own version of Psalm 136 by recognizing His mercy in daily situations - getting through traffic safely, having food to eat, being able to work, spending time with family.

More importantly, if there are areas where you've been resistant to God or walking in disobedience, don't let this year be a repeat of last year. Humble yourself, repent, and receive His mercy while it's available.

Ask yourself these questions:

- Are there areas in my life where I've been taking God's mercy for granted?
- What sins or failures do I need to confess and repent of today?
- How can I better cooperate with God's grace to live righteously this year?
- Am I harboring any bitterness toward others that I need to release, considering how merciful God has been to me?

Remember, God's mercy endures forever for those who receive it. Don't let pride, stubbornness, or shame keep you from the fresh start He's offering. Today can be your day of salvation, deliverance, and new beginning.

Quotes

1. Life doesn't run on autopilot. What matters must be planned, prepared, thought through, and intentionally carried out.
2. Nothing is automatic. What matters is what we do with the life—and the gifts—God has entrusted to us.
3. We don't read the Bible, pray, and go to church to earn God's blessing. We do those things to learn how to live a blessed life.
4. Reject what's contrary to God's plans for you—refuse to give it a place in my life.
5. Give no place to the devil. Give no ground to your adversary.
6. God does not send adversity—so we do not receive it.
7. The book of Job teaches patient endurance on humanity's part and compassion and mercy on God's part.
8. The ability to repent—to recognize what is wrong and turn away from it—is itself a gift of God's mercy.
9. God is not distant or unmoved. You affect Him. You can grieve Him, frustrate Him, even anger Him—yet His mercy endures forever.
10. God feels deeply. He restrains, waits, and remains patient—even when there are things He does not approve of—because He is merciful.

11. Mercy is not receiving what you deserve; judgment is receiving exactly what you deserve.
12. Endurance isn't about how you feel—it's about choosing patience with people over time.
13. "My Spirit will not strive with humanity forever." God will not plead or contend indefinitely.
14. God's mercy endures forever—but it must be continuously received.
15. You never want God to leave you to yourself.
16. If God hasn't given up on you, then don't give up on yourself.
17. Silence toward God is dangerous. We need to express our remorse and repent.
18. You don't have to sin. You don't have to give in. You can live an upright, righteous, and holy life.
19. This may feel like a last call—but humility can change everything.
20. Today is my day of salvation. Today is my day of deliverance. Today is my day to walk in God's grace while it is available.

Verses

1. Galatians 6:7
2. James 5:11
3. 2 Timothy 2:25
4. Ephesians 4:30
5. Acts 13:2
6. Genesis 6:3
7. 2 Peter 3:20
8. Revelation 2:18-23
9. Romans 1:28
10. 1 John 1:9

11. Psalm 136:1-26

12. John 8:11

13. 1 John 3:9

Summary

As we enter a new year, we have a fresh opportunity to understand and receive God's enduring mercy. Mercy means not getting what we deserve - God actively chooses to withhold judgment and extend grace instead. This requires endurance on God's part as He patiently works with us through our failures and mistakes. Job's story teaches us about both human perseverance and God's incredible compassion. The key to receiving mercy is repentance, which itself is a gift from God. We must never go silent when we mess up, but instead acknowledge our failures, confess our sins, and receive His cleansing. While God's mercy endures forever, there's urgency in receiving it - this new year could be a last call for many to humble themselves and accept His forgiveness before facing consequences.