Youth updates

Today's world tells teens to walk around life with a mirror in front of their faces. They guestion their looks, persona, and acceptance nonstop, thinking that one more post on social media might gain people's attention. Living with eyes glued on yourself will only lead to one thing: death. God offers an alternative to the mirror. When God rules over our lives, he flips everything upside down. His kingdom looks nothing like the ways of the world everything orients around loving him and serving others. The youth will be completing a fourweek series studying the parables in Luke to teach what it looks like for God to rule our lives. Though a life sold out for Christ might look backwards to everyone else, it actually points us back to how God intended our lives to be when he first created us. When God is king, he reverses the curse and flips everything we know on its head. We simply have to choose to follow his lead.
