Abortion: A Religious Issue?

One of the burning issues of our time is the abortion question. A continuing battle rages between those who favor abortion and those who oppose it. This has been reinforced by the recent overturn of Roe vs. Wade by our United States Supreme Court. It seems improbable that either side will convince the other of the validity of its position. It is simply a question of which side will prevail.

To those who put their faith in the Holy Scriptures as the inspired Word of God abortion is murder, prohibited by the Fifth Commandment. There is abundant Scriptural evidence to lead to this conviction: Not all people accept the Scriptures as the Word of God, however. Hence, there are bound to be irconcilable differences with regard to various issues between those who believe and those who do not believe.

Now come proponents of abortion who contend that abortion is purely a religious issue and that those who oppose abortion have no right to inflict their religious views and practices on others against their will. We agree that we have no right to impose our religious beliefs on others by force of law. But we cannot agree that the matter of abortion is strictly a religious issue.

Few, if any people, including nonbelievers, would contend that society could function without laws pertaining to the protection of human life and property. There are fundamental standards of right and wrong in the relationships of human beings with one another without regard to religion. Robbery and murder are crimes, without reference to the religious beliefs of those who perpetrate these crimes or who suffer as their victims. These are not religious issues.

The unborn child is a living being, helpless though it may be — and for that reason all the more in need of protection. In the normal course of events it will achieve maturity, just as a child moves on through childhood to maturity as an adult. It makes no difference at what stage of development a life is taken. It is the taking of a life just the same. And since when is the taking of life purely a religious issue?

For you created my inmost being;
 you knit me together in my mother's womb.
 I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made;
 your works are wonderful,
 I know that full well.

My frame was not hidden from you
 when I was made in the secret place, when I was woven together in the depths of the earth.
 Your eyes saw my unformed body;
 all the days ordained for me were written in your book before one of them came to be. (Psalm 139: 13-16)

SERVING OUR SAVIOR

Starting the weekend of August 27-28, we begin our Serving our Savior (S.O.S.) Weeks. During this 3-week period, we are looking to rebuild our service opportunities at Christ Lutheran Church as we come back from Covid. There will be visual displays manned by people eager to tell you about the opportunities available to you. I'd encourage you to consider how you can faithfully use your talents here at Christ. Talk with the men and women who serve here and find just one area to sign up for and get involved in. It doesn't have to be long term. I pray that your service will be a blessing at our congregation and our Savior will be honored through it.

—Nate Koelpin, Stewardship Elder

Parables for Pentecost

Who doesn't love a well-told story? Stories grab our attention and sometimes capture our imagination. They have the power to move our emotions. They can shape and even change our behavior. Maybe it shouldn't surprise us then that Jesus himself was an avid storyteller. Nearly a third of his recorded teachings are in the form of short stories called parables. In a way, the parables of Jesus put flesh and blood to what he taught. They reference ordinary, everyday kinds of things. They're often quite simple. And they all help us see him and his love for us better. So, during this Pentecost season come and enjoy our sermon series—"Parables for Pentecost."

- 8/3 The Unmerciful Servant, Matthew 18:21-35
- 8/10 The Workers in the Vineyard, Matthew 20:1-16
- 8/17 The Bags of Gold, Matthew 25:14-30

A Psalm for Every Heart

When God uses the word heart in the Bible, he means much more than simply the muscle inside our chest that pumps blood and keeps us alive. Our God created our heart and knows that, figuratively speaking, it is also an object through which feelings, desires, and thoughts flow. A heart can be filled with everything from grief to joy and from sorrow to gladness. Hearts break. Hearts are filled with sin and effected by it too. Our God formed such a heart inside us, understands it, and speaks to it in his Word. Join us for our upcoming Wednesday sermon series as we consider: "A Psalm For Every Heart."

News & Christian Education

ELDERS' MESSAGE

When Jesus sent out his disciples ahead of him, he said (Luke 10: 2) "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field."

When Jesus healed the blind man, he said (John 9:4) "As long as it is day, we must do the works of him who sent me. Night is coming, when no one can work."

Pentecost is sometimes called the birthday of the Christian church. What do we get on our birthdays? Presents of course. The greatest gift given on Pentecost was the gift of the Holy Spirit. With this gift, he gives us all the ability to go out and tell others about the saving gospel of Jesus Christ.

In Mark 16:15, Jesus told his disciples, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation."

In Matthew 28:18-19 he said to them "All authority in heaven and earth has been given to me. Therefore, go and make disciples of all nations"

In Luke 24: 46-47, he said, "repentance for the forgiveness of sins will be preached in his name to all nations."

In Acts 1:8, He said "But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth."

These passages do not apply only to the disciples but to us as well. The Lord wants us to share the good news of his saving gospel with others: friends, neighbors, fellow workers, relatives, strangers, and visitors to our church.

We have a congregation that provides all of us with numerous opportunities to outreach to others. To list a few:

- Volunteer to teach Sunday School, help volunteer at the Lambs of Christ Learning Center, assist with Family Night, English as a Second Language classes, Lego Night, the Farmers Market, and sports camps for children.
- Outreach at Christ and at our Erin and Wauwatosa campuses, including Vacation Bible School, Sunday School, door to door canvassing, sports camps for children, outreach to visitors.
- Provide meals for the Ronald McDonald House, Lighthouse Youth Center, funerals, or Advent or Lenten meals.

We have a congregation with many talented members with many opportunities to use those gifts to the glory of God.

Please consider the talents that the Lord has given and also the opportunities that are available to you to use those talents. If you are interested in getting involved in any of these opportunities, contact Pastor Warnecke or the church office.

Yours in Christ, Jim Groth, Outreach Elder

THAILAND MINISTRY PRESENTATION

Sunday School Teachers and Helpers Needed!

The top requirement for our teachers is a love for Jesus and a love for his children. Please consider serving your Savior in this way. You don't have to be a professional teacher to serve. Each teacher is paired with another so that teachers don't teach every week. Materials are provided that are easy to follow, and aides are assigned to each room. Please prayerfully consider being a part of this important and rewarding ministry to carry out Jesus' desire to keep our children in saving faith in him. For more information contact Pastor Gerbing or Ron Morrow at ron2morrow@yahoo.com or 414-559-8829.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

When John the Baptist was born, those who attended the celebration of his birth and circumcision asked, “What then is this child going to be?” (Luke 1:66). That is a question every parent asks of his or her own child. Is my child going to be a doctor, lawyer, computer programmer, pastor or teacher? Is my child going to be successful, famous, wealthy?

These are important questions to consider. Because of questions like these, parents make difficult choices for their children, especially when it comes to education. We all want our children to get a good education so they can be properly equipped and prepared to successfully meet the challenges life will throw at them.

But the more important issue is—are our children properly prepared for the Kingdom of God?

When you think about it, Sunday School is the nursery of our church. For the Church to continue to exist and grow, it needs to train and care for the spiritual needs of its children.

Children need to know that God is the creator of all things. They need to know that all people are born sinners, condemned to eternal death. They need to know that Jesus Christ is the Son of God who has taken away their sins as well as the sins of the world. They need to know the stories of the Bible and the biographies of the saints put into writing by God himself, so they will have the complete knowledge of the history of God's plan of salvation. It is, after all, to our generation and the next that Christ has given the responsibility to pass along his gospel message.

Give your children the knowledge God wants them to have—the complete knowledge of their Savior Jesus Christ. Give them the spiritual tools they will receive in Sunday School so they will grow in their faith. Then they will be thoroughly prepared for the real challenges of life, the challenges caused by sin and the old evil foe—the devil. Equip your children that they may be the blessing God intends them to be for his Kingdom.

Sunday School

for children three years old to eighth grade begins on

Thank You

from Kingdom Prep Lutheran High School

To Pastor Krause and members of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church of Pewaukee,

Thank you for the generous $500 gift of your church to Kingdom Prep Lutheran High School. On May 28, 2022, graduation ceremonies were held for the first graduating class of Kingdom Prep. It was a wonderful day to celebrate the founding class of 2022. Graduation senior, Channon Griffin, shared his thoughts during the ceremonies to classmates, and family and friends gathered to celebrate the class of 2022.

As Channon anticipates life after KP, he plans to pursue further training to become an emergency medical technician. The leaders of KP are committed to helping young men, like Channon, discover their purpose in the context of Christ-centered brotherhood.

Thank you for your support of Channon, his classmates and the KP students who are following behind them.

With gratitude and appreciation,

Kevin Festerling, Principal

Tom Keppeler, Director – Partner Development

Parish Nurses News

From Your Parish Nurses... Screen Time and Children

With screens virtually everywhere, monitoring a child's screen time can be challenging. To complicate matters, some screen time can be educational and support children's social development. So how do you manage your child's screen time? Here's a primer on guiding your child's use of screens and media per the Mayo Clinic's Website.

The problems with screens

Too much screen time and regular exposure to poor-quality programming has been linked to:

- Obesity
- Inadequate sleep schedules and insufficient sleep
- Behavior problems
- Delays in language and social skills development
- Violence
- Attention problems
- Less time learning

Developing screen time rules

The American Academy of Pediatrics discourages media use, except for video chatting, by children younger than 18 months. If you introduce digital media to children ages 18 to 24 months, make sure it's high quality and avoid solo media use. For children ages 2 to 5, limit screen time to one hour a day of high-quality programming.

To ensure quality screen time:

- Preview programs, games and apps before allowing your child to view or play with them. Organizations such as Common Sense Media has programming ratings and reviews to help you determine what's appropriate for your child's age. Better yet, watch, play or use them with your child.
- Seek out interactive options that engage your child, rather than those that just require pushing and swiping or staring at the screen.
- Use parental controls to block or filter internet content.
- Make sure your child is close by during screen time so that you can supervise his or her activities.
- Ask your child regularly what programs, games and apps he or she has played with during the day.
- When watching programming with your child, discuss what you're watching and educate your child about advertising and commercials.

Also, avoid fast-paced programming, which young children have a hard time understanding, violent content and apps with a lot of distracting content. Eliminate advertising on apps, since young children have trouble telling the difference between ads and factual information.

Setting limits for older children

Establish clear rules and set reasonable limits for your child's use of digital media. Consider these tips:

- Encourage unplugged, unstructured playtime.
- Create tech-free zones or times, such as during mealtime or one night a week.
- Discourage use of media entertainment during homework.
- Set and enforce daily or weekly screen time limits and curfews, such as no exposure to devices or screens one hour before bedtime.
- Consider using apps that control the length of time a child can use a device.
- Keep screens out of your child's bedroom and consider requiring your children to charge their devices outside of their bedrooms at night.
- Eliminate background TV.

Finally, set a good example. Consider that your child is watching you for cues on when it's OK to use screens and how to use them.

You'll likely need to continue to guide, manage and monitor your child's use of screens and media as he or she grows. But by developing household rules — and revisiting them as your child grows — you can help ensure a safe experience.

— Lori Flynn

Better than screens, is for the parents to spend time every day with their child in God's Word. Use a children's Bible with pictures, like "The Beginner's Bible", or a good Bible story book. Everything you read together will help you and your child grow in the best way possible—in faith in Jesus.

— Pastor Gerbing
