

A presence of hope

TPresence, no matter the circumstances, is imperative in the lives of our sheep. During crisis, however, the importance of this responsibility of a shepherd seems to be heightened. May this story of a presence of hope encourage you to shepherd well those in your care even during the most difficult times in their lives. <https://tinyurl.com/A-Presence-of-Hope>As I sat to write about the last few weeks, about how faithful the Good Shepherd is in every situation. In every circumstance. Maybe even more to remind myself of His goodness and His faithful plan than others, I opened my email to "A Delay When it Seemed to Matter Most," this week's weekly Friday Fragments post by Dan Wolgemuth, President/CEO of Youth for Christ USA.

<https://tinyurl.com/PP-Gods-Timing>

Diving Deeper Questions

What present work or new opportunities are you in that allows you to be the comforting presence for people who are hurting and in need of support and encouragement?

How can you be prepared to respond during trying times?

Take a moment and ask God to equip you for any catastrophe in the future.