*

DAY FIVE: THE ULTIMATE VICTORY—CHRIST'S PROMISE OF LIFE

KNOW IT!

Read the following passage: Colossians 3:1-4

John 11:25-26 (ESV)

"I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never die."

1 John 3:14 (ESV)

"Because I live, you also will live."

Hebrews 4:16 (ESV)

Let us then with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need.

The promise of the Resurrection extends far beyond that one historical event—it gives us eternal life and hope. Jesus' victory over death is the assurance that our future is secure. This is not just an abstract promise; it is a bold declaration that because He lives, we can live fully, empowered by grace and strengthened by His love.

Because of Christ's resurrection and our union with Him, we're called to set our minds on heavenly realities. This doesn't mean ignoring our earthly responsibilities, but rather viewing them from an eternal perspective. How might your priorities, relationships, or daily choices look different if you consistently remembered your resurrection hope? Ask God to help you live today as a person destined for eternity, allowing that future hope to infuse your present with purpose and joy.

Every day, embrace the assurance that comes from knowing our Savior has conquered death. Allow this truth to empower you in times of struggle and uncertainty, and to fill you with a joy that is unshakable.

LIVE IT! SHARE IT!

- How does the promise of eternal life through Christ's resurrection impact the choices you make every day?
- Pray with Confidence: Spend time in prayer meditating on John 11:25-26 and Hebrews 4:16, asking God to strengthen your faith in His promise of eternal life.
- Offer Hope to Others: Reach out to someone facing hardship or uncertainty, and share how the Resurrection assures you that death is not the end, inviting them to embrace this hope as well.

*reasonsforhope