Seeing Jesus Our Saviour

“Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.” —Psalm 35:3

“For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,”—Luke 2:30

David was not only asking God to defend him from his enemies — he was asking God to speak assurance directly to his soul: “I am thy salvation.”

The deepest need of the heart is not merely outward deliverance, but inward certainty that the Lord Himself is our Savior.

In Luke 2:30, Simeon holds the Christ child and declares that his eyes have seen that salvation.

What David longed to hear by faith, Simeon witnessed by sight. Salvation is not just something God gives — it is found in the person of Jesus Christ.

Israel at the Red Sea.

Exodus 14:13 “And Moses said unto the people, Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the LORD... “

When Israel stood trapped between Pharaoh and the Red Sea, they could not rescue themselves. God commanded them to stand still and watch Him work. He parted the waters and revealed His salvation openly.

Like David, they needed God to quiet their fears and assure their hearts. Salvation belonged entirely to the Lord.

Blind Bartimaeus.

Mark 10:52. “And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.”

Blind Bartimaeus cried out to Jesus and received his sight. The first face he saw was the Savior’s.

His healing pictures the truth of Luke 2:30 — salvation must be personally seen and received. When his eyes were opened, he did not turn away; he followed Christ.

God still speaks peace to the believer’s heart: “I am thy salvation.”

When we truly see Christ as our Savior, fear gives way to assurance. Like Israel, we learn to trust His power. Like Bartimaeus, we rise and follow Him.

True peace comes when the soul rests in the certainty that salvation is found in Christ alone.
