Milton Miskell

I. INTRODUCTION

- A. God the Father was a finisher.
- B. Jesus was a finisher.
- C. We are called to be finishers!
- D. Central concept: Unfinished business costs us in the kingdom so much! It costs us some of the biggest victories, accomplishments, breakthroughs, and celebrations!

II. What does unfinished business mean practically as we continue on our journey?

- 1. It means that someone at the point of accepting the finished work of Jesus Christ, might simply say, “I’m ok, I don’t need to repent!”
- 2. It means that someone at the point of being healed may not believe for it and simply accept it as their lot in life.
- 3. It means that someone at the point of actively forgiving someone else may decide not to go through with it because they feel the person doesn’t deserve forgiveness.
- 4. It means that someone about to begin in a ministry, be it as big as a church or small as the beginning of a food pantry, may not go any further.
- 5. Unfinished business means that parents may decide to give up on disciplining a child because it seems too hard.
- 6. Unfinished business means that someone who is dealing with a substance abuse problem may theorize that they can keep the habit and still function instead of reaching out to a counseling professional.
- 7. Unfinished business means that someone who is pressing in to get to know God and find out his will, begins to believe they are bothering God or that it’s too hard to hear from Him.
