Something Wicked This Way Comes -

Two boys, Will and Jim, live in a small town in Illinois in the 1930's. One October, Dark's Pandemonium Carnival comes to town, much to the delight and excitement of the entire community, especially the two boys. Will and Jim are enchanted by the rides and shows and charmed by the handsome and mysterious Mr. Dark.

In their fascination, the boys sneak into the carnival after hours. To their horror, they discover that the carnival is not what it appears. Townspeople who are lured to the carnival by its glitter and magic are secretly being captured, mesmerized, and turned into sideshow freaks.

The two boys are discovered and pursued by evil spirits, terrifying dreams of tarantulas, and the sinister Mr. Dark himself. Dark finally catches the boys and drags them back to the carnival to do away with them. Only the unlikely heroics of Will's father, the town's spineless librarian, and a fortuitous thunder and lightning storm foil Mr. Dark's scheme. The entire carnival is vacuumed up by a tornado-like cloud and disappears.

This story, Something Wicked Comes This Way, is from the imagination of science fiction writer Ray Bradbury. It appeared first as a book and then as a movie. In his tale two boys caught in the classic struggle between good and evil, Bradbury displays uncanny insight into Satan's devious and relentless seduction of our children. For Example:

- 1. Mr. Dark appears to offer the boys happiness and fun, but his real intent is their destruction. The Bible says that Satan has transformed himself into an angel of light (2 Co 11:14), but we know that his purpose, as Jesus tells us, is to destroy us (John 10:10) and our children.
- 2. Mr. Dark's carnival is called Pandemonium. In John Milton's classic novel, Paradise Lost, Pandemonium was the name given to the capital of Hell, the abode of the demons (notice that demon is in the middle of the name). Satan is assisted in his seductive schemes by his angels which rebelled with him (Eph. 6:12)
- 3. The only thing Mr. Dark fears is the storm, because the lightning illuminates his dark corners and the rain washes away his dust. The only way to dispel the darkness of Satan's seduction is to walk in the light ourselves and teach our children to do the same -1 Jn 1:5-7
- 4. Will's father, who has a history of cowardice, is the hero who races to the carnival in the nick of time to rescue Will and his friend Jim. Similarly, you as a parent may not feel fully qualified, but God desires to use you to guard your children from spiritual seduction as you bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord (Eph. 6:4)

This is an illustration we need to take heed to! When we were kids, he came after us if you'll remember, and he still comes at us as adults.

He comes at us via 2 major fronts and we will learn of them.
