THE WELLNESS CORNER

Let's Celebrate National Physical Fitness & Sports Month!

May is National Physical Fitness and Sports Month — a time to prioritize your health through movement and activity. Established in 1983, this month encourages people of all ages to build healthier habits and stay active.

Consistent physical activity can help you:

- Improve sleep
- Reduce the risk of serious conditions like heart disease and diabetes
- Perform your best at school and work
- Boost your mood and energy

Tips to Move More This May

- Sign up your kids or grandchildren for summer sports like bowling, baseball, softball, or track
- Add resistance training at least twice per week
- Aim for 150 minutes of moderate-intensity or 75 minutes of vigorous-intensity aerobic activity each week
- Schedule walks with a friend
- Add workouts to your calendar — and set reminders!
