

A.W. Tozer is a world-renowned pastor, theologian and writer of the last century. He wrote many books, but his best (in my opinion) was entitled, The Knowledge of the Holy. This short book is so profound in its Biblical description of God that I encourage every Christian I know to read it. Personally, I have read it through at least 10 times. Tozer begins chapter one with a sentence I have never forgotten and will remember for the rest of my days: What comes into our minds when we think about God is the most important thing about us. Why is that? Because, what you really believe about God will determine your understanding of life's purpose and will set the direction for how you choose to live. Correctly figuring out who God is will shape who you become and what your life will amount to. But, lets face it, God is the "Great Unknown" to many of us. In today's message we'll discover the various ways we can learn of God and then identify the most significant truths we must know about God. Listen ... How you answer the question "Who is God?" will set the course of your life for all time and eternity.
