

Discipleship Follow-Up for Sunday 6/21/26

Take a few minutes to talk through these questions honestly. The goal is not to give the “right” answer, but to think about where Jesus is transforming your life, where you may still be settling into what is comfortable, and how He may be calling you to move toward others with His love.

1. Where do you feel like God is working on your mind and heart right now, and where do you still find yourself slipping back into what feels comfortable?
2. When you think about following Jesus, does it feel more like celebration or obligation right now? Why do you think that is?
3. Who is someone in your life that God may be asking you to move toward in friendship, even if their life looks different from yours?
4. What is one simple way you could help someone this week become more open to what the Holy Spirit wants to do in their life?
5. If someone watched the way you lived this week, what would they see that shows Jesus is transforming you?

As you walk away from this conversation, ask the Holy Spirit to show you one clear step you can take this week. A transformed life is not just something we talk about; it is something others should be able to see as we celebrate Jesus, love people well, and live with purpose.
