

Giving Up

Control

DISCIPLESHIP QUESTIONS

How can we actively practice giving up control in our daily lives?

In what ways have you seen God shaping you as the potter shapes clay in your life?

What does it mean for you to trust in God's plans even when they are different from your own?

How can we overcome the fear of letting God have control over difficult areas of our lives?

What steps can you take to ensure your heart remains soft and moldable for God's shaping?

What is one area of your life where you feel the need to have control but may need to surrender to God?

How do you respond when you face situations where you cannot control the outcomes?

Can you think of a time when trusting God led to a positive change in your life?

What are some practical ways you can support your friends in their struggles to give up control?

How can the concept of being shaped by God relate to your passions and future goals?