WHY DO WE DO THAT?

Fellowship Five

In Romans 15:7, the Apostle Paul offers this encouragement to the church: "Therefore welcome one another as Christ has welcomed you, for the glory of God."

At Summit, we express the welcome of Christ in all kinds of ways. However, during our Sunday gatherings, we prioritize this expression through what we call the "Fellowship Five." The Fellowship Five is simply a designated five-minute segment of our service dedicated to intentionally welcoming others. The importance of this time goes beyond merely extending a handshake, giving a hug, or saying 'hello'. It is a vital aspect of worship where we honor God by embodying to others the open-armed welcome he has extended to us through Christ.

Throughout history, the church has incorporated similar practices into its liturgy. Often known as "the passing of the peace," these traditions of greeting stem from Jesus' words to his disciples in John 20:24: "Peace be with you." By extending Christ's welcome (or peace) to each other, we symbolically remind one another of our reconciliation not only with God but also with each other, brought about through Jesus' finished work.

While introverts may rejoice at the end of the five-minute countdown, and extroverts may wish we had a fellowship 'fifty,' the purpose of this greeting time transcends our natural temperaments and instead stresses the unity we have in Christ. Our prayer for Summit is that this unity isn't simply an abstract theological concept but a lived reality. That's why we do the "Fellowship Five."
