WHY DO WE DO THAT?

Theology of Generosity

At the heart of the Bible's posture toward money—and toward everything we possess—is generosity. Generosity is the joyful, open-handed response of a heart transformed by the grace of God. That means giving isn't merely a financial transaction but an act of worship. It is part of offering our whole selves to God "as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to him" (Romans 12:1).

This brief theology of generosity is meant to help us understand giving as a worshipful response to the grace of the gospel. During the next three weeks we will be looking at Five truths from Scripture that frame how we think about generosity.

- 1. God Owns It All
- 2. God Gave It All
- 3. Generosity Flows From The Heart

"Where your treasure is, there your heart will be also." - Matthew 6:21

God does not need our money. He wants our hearts. More than almost anything else, how we steward our money reveals what we trust and visibly demonstrates what we worship.

When we give generously, we are saying: "My worth is not in what I own. My hope is not in what I accumulate. Christ is my treasure."

What matters first and foremost in our giving is not the amount, but our posture. We don't give reluctantly or under compulsion, but cheerfully (2 Cor 9:7), with a clear conscience. Generosity should not be motivated by external pressure. It flows from and results in deep, genuine joy.

- 4. Generosity Forms The Heart
- 5. Generosity Joins God's Mission
