Dear Friends,

Happy New Year to each of you! May our Lord continue to be your guide, support and reason to live, and may 2024 bring special blessings to you and yours.

At the church of Pau, Alain gave the last Sunday morning sermon of the year with the intriguing title: "Prophecies for the future." Of course, he didn't say they were necessarily going to all be realized in 2024! What was important was to review the things the Bible has announced that haven't yet come about, place the present conflict in the Middle East into its context, clarify the facts, and sort out what's being loudly debated and broadcasted in the news these days.

We were surprised to hear that the church where we were years ago in Tarbes had made a rule not to talk about Israel, nor the Lord's return! Many have called to hear Alain's thoughts on the situation, which pushed him to put a few messages on YouTube.

What takes the major part of Alain's time is placing his songs on Deezer and other websites. New songs, old songs...modernizing the rhythm being very meticulous, and having some of the young ladies of the church over to record their voices. Adding this, changing that...Then he did have a few setbacks, like 12 painful days and sleepless nights after having a tooth taken out or a sharp pain in his knee that especially shoots up when climbing the stairs to his office. (The orthopedic surgeon suggested a small operation to remove a little piece of debris irritating the meniscus, and, in the meantime, prescribed sessions with a physical therapist to work with the muscles that are overly tense.)

As for me, I continue to receive a lot of mail concerning my book on the Protestant history of Paris. To answer them is sometimes time consuming. Recent questions are from a South Korean pastor planning a trip for June. He will have a whole month to visit Paris, and would like to find new additions for the museum based on the Reformation that he founded there in South Korea...What an interesting perspective!

We truly thank you for your prayers and support all these years. May the Lord renew each of us as we serve Him together!

Yours in Christ,
Alain and Carol Larrey
