

Love's Pursuit Declaration

I am loved by God.

I belong to God, and I am His child. I am not forgotten, overlooked, abandoned, or without help.

I am connected to Jesus, the true Vine, and His life continually flows through me.

I abide in Christ, and Christ abides in me. I stay connected to the source. His love, wisdom, strength, direction, and power are working in me every day.

My faith is not broken. God has given me the measure of faith, and my faith works through love. I do not strive to earn what God has already given me. I receive His love, I rest in His love, and I move from a place of knowing that I am loved.

God has given me everything I need for life and godliness. I am not lacking. I am not a beggar. I am a son or daughter of the King.

I trust the Lord more than I trust what I see, what I feel, or what people say. God has my back. He sees what I cannot see. His ways are higher than my ways, and His plans for me are good.

I will not despise the process. I will not become discouraged in the in-between season. God is developing my character and preparing me to steward everything He has spoken over my life.

I am consistent. I am faithful. I will stay connected to God even when I do not immediately see the manifestation of His promise.

God has already placed gifts, abilities, wisdom, creativity, and purpose inside of me. I will cultivate what He has given me. I will study. I will prepare. I will practice. I will serve. I will develop what God has placed in my hands.

My gift makes room for me and brings me before the people and opportunities connected to my assignment.

I do not have to chase every opportunity. I do not have to force doors open. God knows where the need is, and He knows what He has placed inside of me to answer that need.

The right people will recognize what God has placed in me. My gifts will speak, my character will speak, and above everything else, it will be evident that the Lord is with me.

I will serve where God has planted me.

I will not overlook ordinary places, ordinary conversations, ordinary assignments, or ordinary days. My everyday life is part of my Kingdom assignment.

Wherever I go, I carry the presence of God.

At my job, in my school, in my church, in my home, in my family, in my neighborhood, and everywhere God sends me, I am available to Him.

Father, show me where there is a need.

Show me what You have placed inside of me.

Show me where my grace is for this season.

Show me what You want to do through me.

And when You show me, I will move.

I do not need another confirmation when God has already spoken. I will obey the last instruction He gave me and trust Him for the next step.

I refuse to live in fear that I am missing God.

I am not missing it.

I am not behind.

I am not forgotten.

I am being developed.

I am being prepared.

I am being positioned.

I am connected to the Vine.

I am continuously supplied.

The same Spirit that raised Jesus Christ from the dead lives in me.

I have wisdom.

I have direction.

I have strength.

I have grace.

I have faith.

I have love.

I have everything I need to accomplish what God has called me to do.

I will rest instead of strive.

I will abide instead of worry.

I will listen instead of rushing ahead.

I will obey instead of overthinking.

I will serve instead of waiting for something bigger.

God can use me right where I am.

I know that I am loved.

I cultivate what God has placed in me.

I use what He has given me.

I pursue Him with my whole heart.

My answer to God is YES.

Yes to Your will.

Yes to Your way.

Yes to Your purpose.

Yes to Your correction.

Yes to Your direction.

Yes to Your assignment.

Yes to Your love.

Father, come and move through every area of my life. Nothing is off limits to You.

I submit my plans to You because You can see what I cannot see.

Your ways are better.

Your plans are better.

Your timing is better.

And You are able to do exceedingly, abundantly, above all that I can ask or think.

I am loved.

I am chosen.

I am connected.

I am equipped.

I am prepared.

I am available.

And I will pursue everything God has called me to do from the revelation that I am deeply loved by Him.

In Jesus' name, amen.
